

The “pursuit of happiness” has been an ineradicable characteristic of the human spirit from the dawn of history. Wesleyan theology holds that this search is the result of the benevolent Creator having formed human persons in his own image. It furthermore believes that the Creator has provided a gracious provision for its realization through a salvation viewed as the renewal of persons in the image of God. These pages explore this understanding.

ISBN 9781522876984

9 781522 876984

90000 >

