FIVE SENIORS ELECTED TO "WHO'S WHO"

College Awards Class Scholarships

"To encourage outstanding scholastic achievement among the students, Trevecca Nazarene College offers a number of awards each year in the form of scholarships. . ."

Freshmen who have received scholarships this quarter are: Donnie Adams, Carol Cook, Geraldine Dilly, Dorothy Downing, Ruth Frey, Janice Hay, Hilda Kea, Carolyn Kennedy, Mary Helen Lane, Margaret McDonald, Earline Mason, Dale Melton, Jeanette Mitchell, Carolyn Moore, Judith Ann Parrish, and Geraldine Tanner.

The main qualifications for freshman scholarships are:

- (1) The person must be a member of a Nazarene church in the Southeastern Educational Zone.
- (2) The student must have ranked in the upper ten per cent of his graduating class in high school.
- (3) The student must have furnished suitable recommendations for the award from his pastor and the principal of his high school.

Scholarship, character, educational promise, and the need of the student are the basis for awards to upper classmen. The student must have maintained an average standing of 2.5 and must have applied by May 15 of the previous school year.

All class scholarships have a value of $100 for the school year.

District funds have been established to assist students. A district which has paid its educational budget in full may establish a loan

Bill Carle Is Chapel Soloist

Bill Carle, converted opera and night club singer, was guest soloist in chapel on October 14, and again on October 16 when he rendered a special program in song.

Among his songs were "Take My Hand, Precious Lord," "God Leads Us Along," and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic." His spirit during the songs was of praise and complete devotion to God. With sincere dependence upon God, he clutched his Bible which held within the promises of which he sang.

Since his conversion almost eight years ago in Los Angeles, California, Bill Carle has been singing the gospel. He has traveled almost a million miles singing, as he said, "to glorify God." He participated in the National Church Musicians' Institute, and will be present at the annual Christmas Tree Lighting in Washington, D. C., with President Eisenhower. Then he will be in New York City to sponsor a teen rally on December 28-30 of this year.

As an encouragement to the students at Trevecca, Mr. Carle said, "To have the blessing of God in your life and heart is the most precious thing that you could have. In serving God, I have found service that I could never render in the secular field."

fund. Each year as the budget is paid, five percent of the total is added to the fund.

To qualify for a district loan, a student must be from that district and must have been in school at Trevecca for at least one quarter. One who is interested should ascertain from the business manager whether or not his district has qualified.

Grades, Leadership, Attitudes, Activities, Christian Influence Are Qualifications

Five seniors have been chosen to represent Trevecca Nazarene College in the 1959-60 volume of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Nominations are made by the Administrative Committee. The college students cast ballots, electing five of those nominated. The following qualifications are carefully considered: good grades, leadership, wholesome attitudes, activities, and positive Christian influence. The Administrative Committee evaluates and considers very carefully each nominee, taking into account the entire college career of each student.

Electees are: Gene Reynolds, Helen Burch, Paul Jackson, Winston Hatcliff, and Kemp Higginbotham.

Gene Reynolds from Columbia, South Carolina, has been active on campus while attending Trevecca. He has served as business manager of the Trev-Echoes and the Darda. His plans for the future include seminary and the ministry. Those who know Gene admire his Christian character and cherish his friendship.

Helen Marie Burch hails from Richmond, Virginia. She has been active in the Music Club and A Cappella Choir for four years.

During her sophomore year she was secretary of her class and assistant editor of Trev-Echoes. Helen was editor of Trev-Echoes during her junior year and at present is editor of the Darda. She has served as a member of the Student Council for two years.

An English major, Helen plans to enter Peabody College upon graduation to begin work on the M. A. degree. She expects to teach in junior high school.

Paul Jackson is from Clay City, Indiana. He is now serving as president of the Speech Club for the second consecutive year.

Music and sports are his greatest interests. During the past three years he has traveled for the school, singing baritone in a quartet. He is a member of the A Cappella Choir for the fifth year. As a member of the Delta Society he plays football and basketball.

Paul is an outstanding Christian studying for the ministry. Speech is his major and education his minor.

Winston Hatcliff was born in Cherokee, North Carolina. His interests are science and chemistry.

Winston came to Trevecca in 1955 as a high school senior. In that same year he joined the Christian Workers' Association, of which he is now president. Winston is a member of the Ministerial Association and the Missionary Prayer Band. In the future he plans to attend seminary and then take a pastorate.

Kemp Higginbotham was born on a farm in Waterford, Mississippi. Four years later the J. E. Higginbotham family moved to Memphis, Tennessee, where Kemp attended grade and high school. He made good grades and became president of the Honor Society. He was also Student Council president.

Now at Trevecca, Kemp continues his list of achievements. As a freshman he was president of his class, and the next year he became sophomore class president. In his junior year Kemp was secretary of the Student Council. He is a member of the Music Club. He was in the choir two years and went on two choir tours. He sang bass in the quartet representing the school in the summer of 1957, and has made two winter quartet trips to Florida.

Kemp is majoring in education and psychology and minoring in English. He would like to teach in Memphis when he graduates from Trevecca.

Florida Tour in January To Complete Schedule

Rev. C. E. Keys, field representative, reports excellent tours by the three summer touring groups. These groups were led by Miss Marie Peery, Rev. Ihrig, and Rev. Keys. The most of the needed funds for the Mackey Library have been underwritten as a result of these tours. The touring schedule is now completed except for the Florida trip which will be made in January.

Symphony Opens Season

Isaac Stern, one of America's outstanding violinist, presented a brilliant performance October 26, at the first symphony of the 1959-60 season. Nearly fifty Trevecca students, a record number, attended. The orchestra under the direction of Willis Page did an excellent job of backing Mr. Stern in the Concerto for Violin and Orchestra in D Major.

The last half of the program was given by the orchestra alone. The number was called Fantastic Symphony by Berlioz. The last movement, "A Witches' Sabbath," was especially effective with Halloween approaching.

Revival Showers

The sweet refreshing shower of the revival that hung in the horizon for many days has come. The aroma of the cool rain filled the atmosphere as prayers arose over the campus. The sounds of blessing and glory were heard in the distance for several weeks. Preparation was made for a downpour, and finally the skies broke into a cloud-burst as the Holy Spirit made His presence known.

Hearts were moved by the fine, soul-searching messages of Dr. L. T. Wells during the week of September 29 to October 4. Holiness was the theme in the chapel services, and in the evening services at the College Hill Church, Dr. Wells faithfully warned unbelievers of the dangers of turning God aside. The Lord was faithful in speaking to hearts; conviction permeated the atmosphere, and many were born again and filled with the Spirit in a glorious way. Dr. Wells preached an especially wonderful message on Heaven the last Sunday morning. The soul of each Christian was inspired by the presentation of the hope of an eternal home with no sorrow, death or parting.

Dr. Wells is undoubtedly one of the most interesting and unique speakers ever heard at Trevecca. His sweet humble spirit conveyed love and concern for his audiences. The students were charmed by his unassuming qualities, and his relating of his own experience from childhood to adulthood presented a warming effect.

Oh, the thrill of being "caught" in the flood! The shower has come, and the debris of pride, selfishness, and worldly ambition has been swept away. Cool breezes still waft over the campus. The sun shines brightly—everything is so sweet and clean.

Private Devotions Are Important

Did you forget to get alone with God today? In this busy rush of life, it is easy to let the day slip by without privately talking to God. Sunday school, church, prayer meetings, and chapel services will not take the place of your daily devotions. I Thessalonians 5:17 reads, "Pray without ceasing." No matter how many church services you attend, you should take time to be alone with God, for in Matthew 6:6 we read that we should enter into a closet and pray, for the Father which seeth in secret shall reward openly. Do not neglect your daily private devotions! They are very important in keeping your Christian experience!

Autumn

Usually one thinks of autumn as being that season when the foliage is tinted brilliant hues of orange, red, yellow, and brown, when the falling leaves and twigs crackle and crunch under the trample of hurrying feet, and when the wind exhibits its voice by a soft whispering.

Seldom does one think about the time when this season makes its entrance and exit, and how the season varies in the different parts of the world.

In the northern half of the world autumn begins September 23. This is the date of the autumnal equinox, when day and night are of equal length. The northern autumn ends December 22, the date of the winter solstice, when the sun is farthest from the equator.

In the southern hemisphere the seasons are, of course, reversed, the autumn extending from March 22 to June 22. Autumn begins and ends at the time spring begins and ends in the North.

Whereas autumn includes the months of September, October, and November in the United States, autumn in Britain makes its entrance and exit a month earlier.

Observe your calendar and you will notice that autumn recently made its official entrance.

Professor Unruh Presents Recital

Ramon Unruh, tenor, was presented by the Music Club in the first in a series of faculty recitals. Professor Unruh was in perfect voice and sang to a full house. Miss Barbara McClain was his accompanist.

The program was divided into three parts. Some of the songs he sang were: God Is Our Refuge by La Forge, The Twenty-Third Psalm by Malotte, Der Erlkonig (The Erl King) by Schubert, Elucwan le stelle (from Tosca) by Puccini, Sailormen by Wolfe, and Song of the Open Road by Malotte. Two of these songs will remain especially in the minds of his listeners. Der Erlkonig (The Erl King) had a lot of emotion and expression as a father watched his son die. Sailormen was about three pretending boys. The song ended in a big yawn by Professor Unruh which captured his audience.

Select "Church Home"

Sundays seem to be the loneliest days, especially for the "newcomers." Do you think about your home church—the same familiar faces—your Sunday school class—long-time friends? The best solution to this problem is to get settled in a "church home" while away from your "home church."

Have you tried your college church? There are many places waiting to be filled by young people who are willing to contribute to the services.

Whether it be your college church or one of the many other Nazarene churches in Nashville, do not hesitate to make your choice.

You will receive many blessings and be a blessing by your faithful attendance in the church of your choice.

"Looking Ahead - - A Decade of Decision" Is Theme of Seventh Educational Conference

"Looking Ahead—A Decade of Decision" was the theme of the Seventh Educational Conference held October 12-15 on Trevecca campus. Unanimous approval regarding the merit of this conference in unifying Nazarene college aims was voiced by those participating.

Representatives of the general church and various colleges were as follows: GENERAL CHURCH—Dr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Benner, Dr. and Mrs. S. T. Ludwig, and Mr. O. Joe Olson. NAZARENE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY—Dr. and Mrs. Louis T. Corlett and Dr. Mendell Taylor. BETHANY NAZARENE COLLEGE—Dr. and Mrs. Roy H.

Cantrell, Dr. and Mrs. C. Harold Ripper, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Craddock, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Smith, and Dr. and Mrs. Vernon Snowbarger. CANADIAN NAZARENE COLLEGE—Dr. and Mrs. Willard H. Taylor and Dr. and Mrs. Chester Mulder. EASTERN NAZARENE COLLEGE—Dr. Edward S. Mann, Dr. Alvin H. Kauffman, Mr. Paul E. Wells, Mr. Stephen W. Nease, and Dr. R. Wayne Gardner. NORTHWEST NAZARENE COLLEGE—Dr. John E. Riley, Dr. Thelma B. Culver, Mr. L. Wesley Johnson, and Mr. Marvin Sporleder. OLIVET NAZARENE COLLEGE—Dr. and Mrs. Harold W. Reed, Dr. and Mrs. Willis E. Snowbarger,

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harlan Milby, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Swearingen, and Dr. and Mrs. John Cotner. PASADENA NAZARENE COLLEGE—Dr. Russell V. DeLong, Mr. J. Bruce Deisenroth, and Mr. J. H. Mayfield. TREVECCA NAZARENE COLLEGE—Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Mackey, Dr. and Mrs. Homer J. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. V. Neil Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Keys, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Chambers, and Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Phillips.

"The conference members were impressed with the progress Trevecca has made in recent years, and seemed pleased with the arrangements we had planned," said Dr. Homer J. Adams.

Dr. Benner Is Chapel Speaker

Dr. Hugh C. Benner, general superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene, was speaker in chapel, October 13 and 14. His messages for the two services were entitled "The Stray Beatitude," and "The Call of God."

Dr. Benner is a graduate of Olivet Nazarene College. He served as president of the Nazarene Theological Seminary for seven years. In 1920 he taught in the high school department of Trevecca for one term while he was attending Vanderbilt University.

The Benners have two children, a daughter and a son. The daughter is married and lives in Indiana. Their son, Richard, is a junior at Northwest Nazarene College.

Besides his duties as general superintendent, Dr. Benner is a song writer and an author. His most recent song is "Prepare Ye the Way of the Lord." It was introduced by a three-hundred-voice choir at the National Church Musicians' Institute at Indian Lake, Vicksburg, Michigan, in July of this year. Rendezvous with Abundance, and Singing Disciples are the titles of his most recent books.

Traveling to foreign countries is a phase of Dr. Benner's duties. During the last church quadrennium, he had jurisdiction over Mexico, Guatemala, Nicaragua, British Guiana, and British Honduras. He

Seminary Dean Is Speaker

A great advantage which all Trevecca students have is being able to hear well-known evangelists preach the Word of God in chapel.

On October 15 and 18 Dr. Mendell Taylor was speaker. His ministry is eloquent and dynamic, tender and Spirit-filled. He is much in demand as a convention and camp meeting speaker.

Dr. Taylor is dean and professor of church history in the Nazarene Theological Seminary in Kansas City, Missouri.

Prominent in the denomination as a youth leader, he served from 1948 to 1952 as president of the general Nazarene Young People's Society.

He received a bachelor's degree from Bethany Nazarene College, and two graduate degrees, including the doctorate, from the University of Oklahoma.

He is a native of Texas.

He has written several books and booklets during the last few years.

also visited the Cape Verde Islands and the British Isles. During this quadrennium, he has made two trips to the Orient, including visits to Japan, Formosa, the Philippines, Okinawa, and Korea. Puerto Rico and Haiti were also visited.

When asked if he had any further comments to make, Dr. Benner said, "I am very impressed by the many campus improvements since my last visit."

College Classes Elect

Student Council Sponsors Wesley Film

A film depicting the ministry of John Wesley, founder of the Methodist Church, was presented Friday, October 9. The film was sponsored by the Student Council and was obtained through the efforts of Rev. Robert Furniss, who secured it from the Methodist Publishing House.

Here And There

Another wonderful school year is beginning at T.N.C. There are so many new faces . . . and so many new names to be learned. We upperclassmen should do all we can to make these new students welcome. It is good to see so many old ones back, too.

We have a top-notch faculty here at Trevecca. By now all the new students know our president, Dr. Mackey, and most of the faculty. In case they do not, I would like to give them a few hints for getting acquainted.

It is rumored that Professor Hemmerly has a skeleton in his closet.

Mrs. Phillips is quite interested in rooftops, and I hear she is planning to write a book on How I escaped From a Silo.

Ask Dr. Wise how many barbecued hamburgers he can eat at one sitting.

Ask Dr. Mackey about walking north on a train going south, while the earth is revolving east, and the solar system is . . . oh, well, he will tell you.

We have a new gardener around school—Dr. Adams. He and Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Chambers have been setting out more flowers on our already beautiful campus. They are typical examples of the industrious, dedicated members of Trevecca's faculty. They are all very much appreciated.

Be sure and get a good look at all the "ripe" juniors. Melvin Welch heads this group. Surely he will succeed.

Our Darda editor is planning a secret wedding. She has already asked the writer to be bridesmaid. Ask her about it; she might have a job lined up for you.

We had some visitors on campus recently. Mr. and Mrs. Felix Brown were here to visit their children: Joan, Carol, and Dave. Some other visitors included former students, Charles Decker and Paul Shannon.

Judy Woodard got a letter of interest the other day. At least, it was interesting to several people because it had a nice go-round before it got to her. I guess almost anyone could tell you about it if you are in the dark.

Have you noticed the newspaper stands on campus? I suppose this is to encourage "outside" reading.

Parting thought: IT NEVER FAILS! After a man has made his mark in the world, a lot of people will rush in with erasers.

Freshmen Find Cake Code Clues

The freshmen, with Dale Melton as president, have found the first clue in the traditional cake code sponsored by the sophomores. The freshmen broke the code, and the first clue pointed them to the fish pond where they found the second clue. The sophomores, with Gene Cook as president, fervently hope the freshmen will solve no more of the six clues. If they do solve them all, the sophomores will give them a picnic. If they fail to solve all of them, the freshmen must give the sophomores a picnic. No freshman class so far has ever solved all of the cake code, but, no matter who wins, there will still be a picnic!

Dr. Franklyn Wise Presents Christian Education Week

Under the direction of Dr. Franklyn Wise, head of the Christian Education Department, a series of chapel services were presented October 5-9.

On Monday Dr. Mackey spoke on "The Christian Educational Task of the Colleges of the Church of the Nazarene, Especially Trevecca." As are all of his messages, this one was inspiring and challenging.

Tuesday brought to us Rev. Orval Stone, pastor of the Inglewood Church of the Nazarene. His topic was "The Christian Educational Task of the Local Churches as a Whole." He emphasized the importance of education through every department of the local church.

"The Opportunities, Duties and Rewards of the Professional Christian Education Director" was the topic discussed by Mrs. Nona Owensby on Wednesday. She is the Christian Education director at First Church of the Nazarene here in Nashville. She gave some valuable information on the potentialities of this new field in our church.

Mrs. K. W. Phillips, of our faculty, spoke Thursday on "The Role of the Pastor's Wife in the Christian Educational Work of the Local Church." She gave an interesting message on the part which the wife has in assisting her husband in the pastorate.

Professor George Pennington spoke Friday on the "Opportunities of Moral and Spiritual Training in the Public Schools," with which he has become well acquainted in his past teaching positions. Christian example and witness might well be the key words of this fine message.

This week gave to us a better insight as to how the college, the pastor, the professional director, the pastor's wife, and the teacher can help in the great task of Christian education.

Seniors Present Program, October 16

On Friday evening, October 16, the Senior Class presented two inspirational films in the Fine Arts auditorium. The faculty quartet made up of Mr. Unruh, Mr. Hammond, Mr. Chambers and Mr. Phillips were also featured on the program.

The first film illustrated that one small happening in the lives of people can have an ever widening circle of consequences.

The fact that we are forgiven only as we forgive was clearly demonstrated by the second film. The story was that of a man who, while driving too fast, had an accident which killed his son and confined his wife to a wheel chair.

Only when they gained a clear concept of forgiveness were the man and his wife helped out of the mental and spiritual difficulty into which the accident had plunged them.

"I would rather be able to appreciate things I cannot have than to have things I am not able to appreciate."

*Editor's note: This poem was presented on the 1959 Senior class night program by Mrs. Lucille Jones, a graduating senior.

Dear Senior, at the toll of last bell, come to see

If my philosophy is sound and do you all agree

That our School is superb and our Faculty is tops?

And we Freshmen of '55 were the outstanding flops?

But our teachers have worked hard with patience and a will

As they hammered and polished on us, until

I feel that this tribute might express our sentiments; so

We will start alphabetically and here we go.

First, there is A and Dr. Adams is our man,

He is the general in every battle, and so easily takes the stand

As the wizard in history, with merry brown eyes and sunny smile

We all miss him so much when he goes fishing a while.

Next is Dean Chambers, the champion of the listing series,

Whose gentle and barbed wit make his lectures a breeze.

He has the homiletical mind, and, dear student, we can all affirm,

If you do not develop same, come exam time, you'll squirm.

His Mrs. C. is a former classmate and is an instructor;

Biology is her dish, and she is the sole conductor

Of symphony in dissection on rabbits and bugs;

She neither faints, nor, squeals at sight of slimy slugs.

Our Dr. Childers is neat, pensive, and serene.

His knowledge exposes in us all the green.

He knows his English, and French, and the Greek, too.

Someone told me this, so I am sure it is true.

The bookstore proprietor is our adored Mr. Duckett;

You descend into his domain like a mop into a bucket,

But never fear, for his door will open at a gentle knock,

And you will find someone there at certain hours o'clock.

Greathouse, the theologian, is the Augustine of our day;

How dull it would be—and what to do without him, I pray?

For he knows all the doctrines and is a right sort of guy;

Serious and benevolent, he expounds with a tear in his eye.

Green is poised, and patient, and persistent to endow

The worst of speakers to enunciate clearly, "How now brown cow."

Memorize, practice, pronounce, recite, again and again

Each time she reminds you like a gentle soaking rain.

Hammond, our master, at the organ doth play

As if he had invented it all in a day.

Tribute To Seniors

He may not be blood-brother to the originator,
But we know by listening that he is its best propagator.

Prof. Hemmerly, until today, had never crossed our path,
Then threw he everything to us at once—even math.

Though he was kind about it, and docile as a lamb;

Dear Senior, only you know what is meant by Area Exam!

Howick is our psychologist and sponsor, and a British accent.

He knows his Dewey and Freud and every lazy student.

His brain is pigeon holes for our information, please,

And he can easily diagnose every emotion and sneeze.

Now, how more appropriate name than Keys

Can our field representative's be? And who sees

The potential out yonder, and unlocks the doors for them to come

And tarry at Trevecca so they can study some?

Klinstiver is king of our white dining hall;

When it comes to boiling cabbage and pie-baking, he's on the ball;

He sweats and stews as he bangs pot and pan,

And as you eat his diet you develop the torso of a fat man.

Then K is for Knight, and John is his name,

Whose bright, clean countenance is a woe and a bane

To all that is uncouth, sordid, and bad.

Young Preachers, take note. He is an example to be had.

Our President is M and the genius of atomics,

His specialty is unique in the field of Mackeynomics;

He is the beloved Keeper and Sage of our dear School

And a severe stickler for abiding by the Golden Rule.

Mrs. Mackey, our first Lady, with loving and anxious care

Checks the library shelves to see if her children are all there.

She lovingly caresses them as she wipes their faces

And wrings her hands and moans if missing from their places.

Miss Barbara McClain, the Paderewski of our high hill,

Manipulates the ivories with the greatest of skill,

No doubt of her ability, she would take the prize

But the High School Choir is the apple of her eyes.

P is for Person, our energetic registrar.

"Are you up?" is her slogan, and if you would go far

Your answer will be, "Yes," with every line and footnote read,

For if not, so you will flunk, and not rest even when you are dead.

P is also for Phillips without a word to rhyme,

But we know him as perfect gentleman all of the time.

He is so kind and good—the student's understanding friend,
And he will counsel and listen, too, to a satisfying end.

His Mrs., a lady precise, with dewey beauty weeps,
And by her example we see what gentleness reaps.

Journalism? Flowers? Her children? Are all her heart,

But sometimes it is difficult to know which is first part.

R is for Redford, our Greek scholar, who has it on Rome.

We are proud that he wrote of "The Rise" here at home.

But we sincerely hope it will not ever be necessary to add Vol. II

For we have all read how Rome fell, and that we never want to do.

The Mrs. R. not only keeps the Professor in line,

But also knows her algebra, and geometry and can well define

A graph, a factor, or a plane, and she bakes a mean pie;

And to know her is to love her till the day you die.

Mr. Richardson is not to be left out, but he is not so hard,

For when all your bills are paid he will give you a clearance card.

He manages everybody's business, even the jeep,

And were it not for his genius we would not live so high, so cheap.

Mrs. R., our postmistress, sorts out our mail,

She puts it in the right boxes, and without fail

Greets us with a smile and friendly word

And flies back to her switchboard like a tiny bird.

What rhymes with our dear Stunck? Tell me if you will.

Look in archeology, or hememeutics, and find the drill;

Meanwhile, remember her as a thoroughly good teacher

Who knows the ancient languages, and is also a preacher.

U is our Professor of the rich vocal lore,

And his notes like birds on the wing do soar;

Enraptured we listen as the melody rolls,

Falling sweetly upon us it blesses our souls.

Our loveable Yankee, and studious Dr. Wise

Lectures from his Dissertation, his greatest enterprise.

He adores philosophy, pie, and every first date.

And his exams are as full of them as the X-mas fruit-cake.

Well, this is the end of my illiterate rhyme,

I hope it hasn't taken up too much of your time:

But I will close with seriousness, humility, and a prayer

Hoping in the far distant future that Trevecca will be there

Chatter Box

By Charles Kirby

Football has begun with a bang, and it looks as though we are going to have one of the best season in T.N.C.'s football history. The games have all been close and exciting, with the exception of one or two, but these also have been hard fought and thrilling games for the spectators to watch. We are predicting a first place fight down to the wire between the Alphas and Deltas. At the present this is taking place. Both teams are dead-locked in a first place tie with a record of 2-0-1. We refuse to pick a seasonal champ with such a close race in the making.

Have you noticed the bleachers that have been added to the football field? We have not seen them filled yet, but are hoping to very soon. The players are giving the game all they have to provide a good game for each person on the sidelines. Take a break from the busy schedule and come to the games.

HOW THEY STAND

The season is nearing the half-way mark and we have a battle going on for first place between the Alphas and Deltas. The Betas have yet to win a game, but are expecting to give the two top teams trouble before the season ends.

Alphas, Deltas Tie 14-14

The Alphas started early in the first period, driving to the Deltas' one-yard line only to have the Delta defense become air tight and hold for four downs. The Deltas took over from here on but were forced to punt four plays later. It was at this point that the Alphas began their march for the first score of the game, a two-yard pass from Bob Cook to Al Wood over center. Brown got the extra point.

The Alphas held their fight point lead until midway of the second quarter when Reynolds hit Westbrook in the end zone with a one-yard pass for six points. The extra point attempt failed, making the score 8-6 in favor of the Alphas. However, this score did not stand long until the Alphas were running again. Cook hit Kennedy with a 30-yard pass in the end zone for another six points. The try for extra point failed, ending the first half of action with the Alphas out in front, 14-6.

The fourth quarter was payday for the Deltas when Reynolds connected on a 15-yard pass to Woods in the end zone for the score. Then on the try for the extra point which was to decide the game, Reynolds threw over center to Kirby, only to have Cook of the Alphas knock the ball down. Defeat appeared to be for the Deltas, but Glen Woods came out of nowhere, diving to the ground and making a snag of the pigskin and a Delta two-pointer. This knotted the score at 14-14, and as time ran out neither team could score again; thus the game ended in a tie.

Deltas Trim Betas 19-6

The Deltas and Betas opened the 1959 football season in good fashion by giving the fans an exciting game full of thrilling plays by both teams.

The Deltas were able to hold the Betas scoreless for three quarters while they were busy building up a ten-point lead by intermission time. The first score came on a safety by Wade Westbrook. These two points held until the second quarter when Glen Woods pounced on the pigskin, after a blocked punt for another six points. Reynolds ran the extra point, making the score ten to nothing.

Both teams were scoreless during the third quarter but the fourth period of play saw both enter the scoring column.

The Betas drew first, scoring on a pass play covering two yards from Cook to Gerald Woods. The PAT attempt failed.

The final score of the game came on a 75-yard pass play from Reynolds to Kirby. PAT also went to Kirby.

Final score: Deltas 19, Betas 6.

Tribute To Seniors

Still teaching, and guiding the eager footsteps in her halls, All those who come to learn within her stalwart walls. Bless each of you, Dear Seniors, as you wend your way Through all this life, and at its close of day May faculty and students, as His dear children, gain the prize And forever dwell with the Master in ethereal skies.

Alphas Score 24-14 Over Betas Student Wives Elect Officers

After a scoreless first half, the Alphas broke loose with four touchdowns to romp over the Betas by the score of 26-14. The Alphas scored after four minutes of play in the third quarter on a 30-yard pass from Bob Cook to Wendell Poole; Cook passed two yards to Poole for the extra point. The Betas then scored on a two-yard pass from Gene Cook to Vic Richardson; Cook passed to Richardson for the extra point. In the last minutes of the third quarter the Alphas scored again on a 15-yard run by Bob Cook; Cook passed to Wendell Poole for the extra point.

In the early minutes of the fourth quarter, Wendell Poole caught a 25-yard pass from Bob Cook for another touchdown. Cook passed 2 yards to Buddy Ward for the extra point. The Betas scored midway through the quarter on a 3-yard pass from Gene Cook to Gerald Woods; the extra point was no good. In the last minute of the game Laverne Deel caught a 25-yard pass from Bob Cook and out-

An up and growing organization on the campus is "Student Wives." At a recent meeting activities for the quarter were planned and the following were elected to office: Beverly Cleckner, president; Jeanne Koch, vice president; Roxana Hinton, secretary; Eula West, treasurer; Charlotte Scott, reporter; Nellie Hayes, chaplain; Shelby Galloway, announcement chairman. Miss Amy Person, sponsor, organized this group several years ago.

Among some of the activities for this quarter are two socials to which the husbands are invited.

Twice a month a pastor's wife will present a chapter from the book, THE SHEPHERDESS.

As in previous years the faculty wives will entertain once a month. In October they were the guests of Mrs. Homer J. Adams, and in November they will be guests of Mrs. T. E. Jones.
