Communication . . . mutual comprehension;
the goal . . . eternally universal;
the methods . . . freshly personal.

Never satisfied to merely search for an answer,
man strives to share himself because man is a quest.

Forms of reaching out undergo metamorphoses.

Art, a creative symbol,
long ago accepted the challenge to portray the message striving to outgrow

the limitations of a physical body.

Whether it be the brisk autumn leaves or the somber stateliness of winter Nature's intricacies never fail to excite the expansive mind or
to relax the intense, pressurized one.
Not contented to view the external only,
man soon sought a
'Why?'
By unravelling the mysteries
he synthesizes products for future inquiry.

Voluntary acceptance of more learned minds passes knowledge from one generation to another.
 But wisdom is never static for man continually struggles to relate that learning to himself.

Heedful of his temporal restrictions
 he must daily accomplish
 a life-long task—
 understanding himself.

Our society governs itself in a manner hopefully conducive to a variety of paths.
Each man is unique.
Let each excel.

The dominant interest of one may speak to a sublimated part of another.
Total indifference is impossible.
Listen to all,
respond to all—lovingly.

Our activities diversify and unite our personalities . . .
ridiculous, serious;
casual, formal;
raucous, silent;
together, alone . . .
all in one life.

When we begin to grow in one way
another part of us shrinks.

No body of people—
 however small—immerses itself entirely in one all-consuming passion.
 Steps to a goal are not the goal.
 We must let every individual express his yearnings for self-fulfillment because we all have the same longings.

This desire to transcend ourselves,
which permeates humanity,
often leads to a seeking for God.
Finding Him adds another dimension to our strivings to live completely.

In each man's search for meaning lies the bond of mankind.
Only when he vulnerably reveals his inner being—
in an individual manner—
does communication occur.

Although a person gropes
to understand himself,
it is not until he is involved with another that an exchange of valuable human ideals enriches the human race.

Policy Makers

1969 marks a milestone for Dr. and Mrs. John E. Riley. NNC's President and his wife have been given special tribute by members of the Board of Regents, faculty, and staff for "25 years of devotion and meritorious service" to the college. During the period in which Dr. Riley has served as college president, the total value of campus assets has increased by $6 million.

Northwest Nazarene College's Board of Regents met on the campus twice during the school year, 1968-69. The regents, with Rev. Raymond Kratzer, chairman, dedicated the H. Orton Wiley Learning Center, gave raises to college personnel, and approved new appointments for the coming year.

Vice Presidents Coordinate Students and Constituents

Dr. Joseph H. Mayfield, Vice President for Campus Life, schedules the student activities of the NNC campus. His duties include the chapel seating arrangements and absences, and he is in charge of many committees. Dr. Mayfield is absent from his position for the summer as he and his wife were granted a summer administrative leave for a trip abroad. While he was gone, Mr. Elmore Vail filled in as Vice President of Campus Life.

Retiring after 24 years as an administrator at NNC was Dr. L. Wesley Johnson, Vice President of Campus Development. Dr. Johnson worked hard on the "Five Year Campus Development Plan." Through this program we observed the raising of Culver Hall, Science Lecture Hall, the Library, and the Classroom Building, as well as extensive remodeling of already existing buildings.

Rev. Gerald Fosbenner will assume the office of Vice President for Campus Development. His duties will include acquiring needed financial assistance for the maintenance, additional construction and academic improvement of NNC.

Responsibility for the academic improvement is the duty of an academic dean. Dr. Thelma B. Culver has contributed remarkably in that capacity. She initiated NNC's well-known Asian Studies program and deserves much of the credit for the NCATE approval.

Mr. John Anderson ably fulfilled his first year of service as Director of Student Aids. Equitably distributing over $700,000 of aid in its various forms amounts to no small task.

Aside from their regular duties, Mr. Marvin Sporleder, Development Representative, and Mr. Ken Meenach, Executive Alumni Secretary, travel with quartets over the zone during the summer publicizing NNC's activities through various media.

Dr. Lauriston DuBois became NNC's first chaplain in the fall of 1968. With a background consisting of pastoral work and seminary teaching as well as experience as a general church leader, Dr. DuBois is quite capable of adding depth to the counseling services offered to students.

In order for Miss Helen Wilson,

Dean of Women, to give more attention to her duties, a new position was added in the office of the dean of women. Mrs. Jim Willis assumed the responsibilities of Assistant Dean of Women.

Mr. Dan Etulain, Dean of Men, has been granted a graduate study leave for the next two years.

Library

In order to serve the students to a greater extent, a Xerox machine was placed in the library. Many of the students and faculty have made it a valuable asset.

Dr. F. C. Sutherland, faculty emeritus, continues to expand and complete the archives.

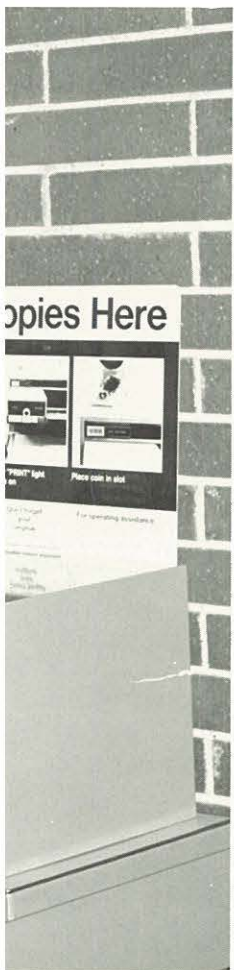

Under the stimulus of Dr. Riley, for whom the library is named, a new five year, $50,000 library improvement plan was instigated. It calls for a systematic increase in the number of volumes and service-ability of the library.

The sociology department added forty-four volumes to the library. The series, entitled The American Negro: His History and Literature is considered the most important contribution of blacks to the writing of their own history.

Librarians: EDITH LANCASTER, HELEN RAMBO, GENEVA BITTLESTON. Assistants: EVELYN MEENACH, MIRIAM KNIGHT. Archivist, below: F. C. SUTHERLAND.

Foreign Languages

Foreign languages received a great boost from the addition of the Individual Learning Center. The classes now include a more realistic approach to the language since the students can hear the intricacies with an opportunity to practice at the same time.

Plans are being formulated for a Spanish Club to accommodate more practice for the increasing number of Spanish students.

English, Speech

Drama, part of the Speech department, presented two stimulating plays, "The Enemy of the People" at homecoming and a spring production entitled "Broken Stairways."

Not to be omitted from the learning opportunities of drama, the English department staged "Glass Menagerie" for the freshman English Composition classes.

Debate teams sparked throughout the year. Early in the debate season, Dr. James Cameron, on exchange from Eastern Nazarene College, announced that the team of John Luik and Kent Hill would represent NNC at the Harvard National Invitational Tournament. For the second consecutive year, NNC was well-represented as the team returned with a five win, three loss record.

Education and Psychology

In May of 1968, NNC was officially accredited by NCATE, the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education. The ten-year approval was retroactive so that any student who completed the NNC program of education since 1967 has passed the NCATE requirements and high standards. The evaluating committee commented favorably about the students, faculty, and college leadership.

The H. Orton Wiley Learning Center added immeasurably to the dimension of education at NNC. Office suites accommodate the divisions of Language and Literature, and Education and Psychology. The room shapes, furniture mobility, and modern equipment all diversify the possible activities. Conventions on campus now can meet in a comfortable, versatile building.

Physical Education

Construction plans for the proposed physical education building have been delayed due to a reduction of available federal funds. If reapplication is successful construction should begin in the spring of 1970.

Scuba diving, under the direction of Jim Morrell, made its debut this year. All students who passed the course earned national certification.

Home Economics

As a special project in adult education, the Adult Methods class sponsored a Family Life Conference. The theme, "Family Filling Station", was designed specifically to present several important aspects of family life—economic, spiritual, personal, social, and physical—in such a manner that both parents of young children were motivated to attend.

Sociology and Political Science

Interest on the part of the sociology students was aroused by a number of guest speakers, some as a result of the topic of the month program. Mr. Thomas Kelly spent a day on campus lecturing to several classes and stimulating social concern and awareness.

Spring break saw a sizeable group of students and several professors head for the San Francisco Bay Area as part of the Discovering the Other America class offered for the first time. While there they learned from representative speakers differing aspects of the people. Many saw for the first time some of the deteriorating buildings characteristic of slums.

As is true of all learning experiences, the students put their changed attitudes to work. The Abundant Food Program campaign was aided by students carrying petitions to most Nampans and participating in the demonstration at the county court house.

History

Dr. Woodward's home on Monday evenings was the scene for the history seminar. The more relaxed atmosphere generated a thorough grasp of pertinent concepts of history.

Another major emphasis was Model United Nations. NNC represented Thailand at Fresno State College. Selected students concentrated on Thailand's background, its relations in the U.N., and the U.N. program itself.

Business and Economics

A primary accomplishment of this year for the business department was a compilation of a questionnaire. One of the advanced classes composed the request for information about past graduates of the business department. The form also asked for an analysis of the department.

Secretarial studies is included as a major for business students. Shorthand is one of the early requirements.

One of the highlights of the Economics Geography class was a guest lecture by Wendell Christiansen.

Left: MARVIN BYERS, M.S.; PHYLLIS HARTLEY, M.A.; KENNETH KEOPPEL, M.S.

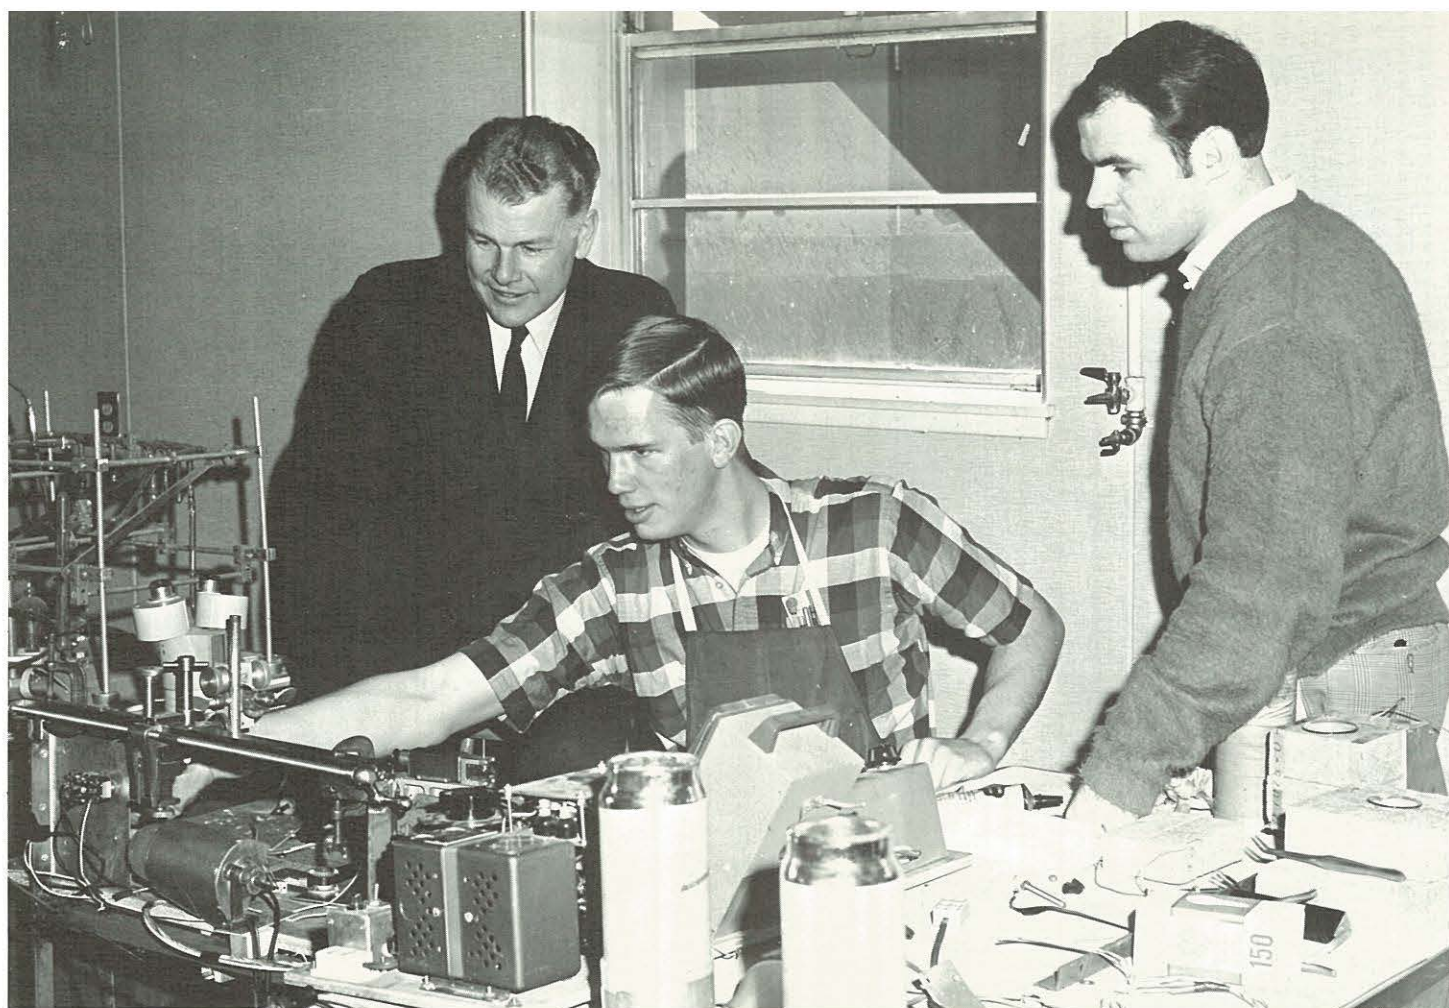

Religion and Philosophy

Action was the key word this year. Early in the year Dr. Jones attended the convention of the American Academy of Religion in Dallas, Texas.

After several years of diligent study, Professor Morris Weigelt successfully defended his doctoral dissertation at Princeton Theological Seminary where he received his degree cum laude. Dr. Mulder received an appointment as president of the Nazarene Bible College in Australia. Students of Dr. Sanner's class contributed regularly to the Crusader's religion section.

Physics and Math

Physics professor, Virgil Vail, spent first term on sabbatical leave as a visiting scholar at the University of Washington. He has worked with Dr. Gilbert C. Ford developing the college's nationally recognized research program in physics. — The computer, one of Vail's chief interests, plays a vital role in the physics department.

Dr. Ford also put his sabbatical to use this year as he studied in Germany's Heidelberg University.

Students, professors, and assistants often team up for special projects.

Under the direction of Dr. Darrell Marks, NNC hosted an institute of high school physics teachers during the summer. The program, part of the Harvard Physics Program, was well-rounded through the assistance of Merlyn Knight, a student, Mr. Vail, and Mr. Wally Johnson from Treasure Valley Community College. Over six thousand dollars of equipment and instructional aids was donated for the institute.

Biology

"Uses of the Sea" titled the conference Dr. Milton Dean, head of the department, attended on the Oregon State University campus this spring. The topic was part of the regional American Assemblies program. Leaders from all types of occupations are selected to attend.

Ornithology, the study of birds and their way of life, was received with great enthusiasm as shown by Doug Carver's intense study. The old record of one hundred sixty nine different birds seen by one person fell midway through the term due to Doug's relentless pursuit. The class is offered every other year.

Chemistry

Involvement was the key for one of the chemistry classes. Dr. Arthur Imel assigned formulas for synthesis to each student. For Duane Dale the routine assignment became a term project of testing the possibilities that he had synthesized a new formula.

The Idaho Academy of Science held their eleventh annual meeting on NNC's campus this spring. Guest lecturers helped diffuse scientific knowledge among those engaged in the various departments of science.

Music and Art

Music's prominence continues to increase as more and more students take advantage of the fine private lessons offered.

Concerts by the stage band, well-received by the school and community alike, highlighted first and third terms. A benefit concert raised three one hundred dollar scholarships for incoming music students.

Dr. D. E. Hill, divisional chairman, along with his family, took a cultural tour of Europe during his sabbatical. They concentrated on concerts, art galleries, and museums.

During the first term Miss Long attended the University of Denver where she studied Art History and took lessons in modern art. Her work was on display when she returned.

On display in the basement of the Fine Arts Building third term were works by Helen Gerandia, well-known painter and print-maker of New York. Lithographs and monoprints were the two opposing art approaches featured in the exhibit.

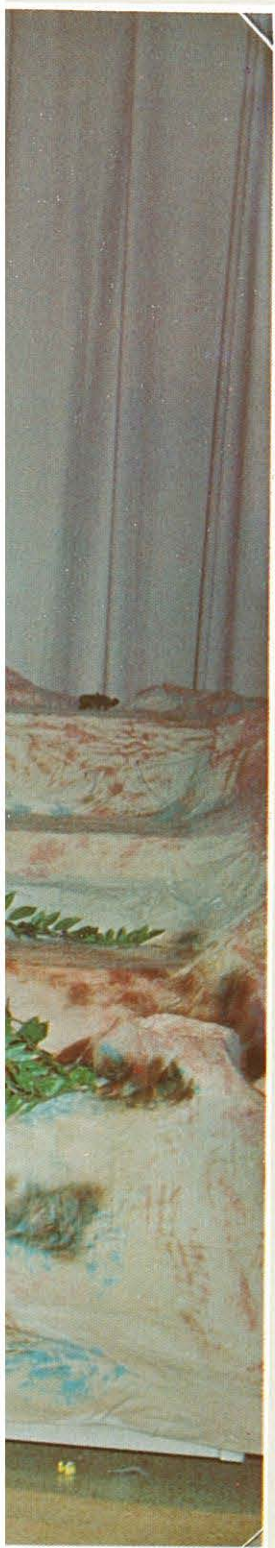

Throughout the year, a number of students also displayed their creative originals. A series on black art hung in the building for some time, too.

Students in the sculpturing classes found time to make various styles of pottery for a sale held near the end of the year. Proceeds were used to provide the department with a new kiln.

Student Life

“In the Beginning . . .”

Taking turns reading from Genesis, Lovell, Anders, and Borman looked down upon the face of the moon. Mankind's dream of centuries was a step closer — he had crossed space to the moon. On the far side of the moon on Christmas Day the crew of Apollo 8 ignited the boosters for their return trip while those on the earth held their breath to hear the voices of the spacemen. Everything followed the schedule.

On the second voyage to the moon, Apollo 10, carrying Stafford, Young, and Cernan, took a lunar landing module. At the moon, Stafford and Cernan detached themselves from the ship and descended to within 49,856 feet of the moon's surface in the module. If all goes as planned, by the time this is read, man's dream of walking on the moon will have become an historical first.

As mankind explored the universe and his future he retained vestiges of his past. War and strife continued unabated. During the year the number of deaths of American servicemen in Vietnam climbed past those of the Korean War. Neither the halt of bombing nor the endless peace talks in Paris stayed the bony hand of death.

In the Middle East, Arabs and Israelis regularly exchanged artillery fire and raids into each other's territory. The world was shocked at the pictures of the Biafran children starving to death as their elders waged war. Man has gone so far, spatially yet so small a distance spiritually.

And we at NNC were not touched by this to any great extent. We cannot forget the importance of free elections, eye transplants, teachers' strikes, racial and civil tension, or the technical advancements. Each of us is affected. We must remember it is our world either to better or to destroy.

—Doug Helling

Campus Plateau 1970

Construction began last spring on the new classroom building. The $800,000 air-conditioned structure is one of the most modern in the Northwest. Named the H. Orton Wiley Learning Center in honor of a past president of NNC, the multi-purpose room on first floor honors a present faculty member with its name of Feltar Lecture Hall.

The Individual Learning Center is used regularly by many students and professors. Much new equipment prepares the Media Center for the day the TV Studio will be used.

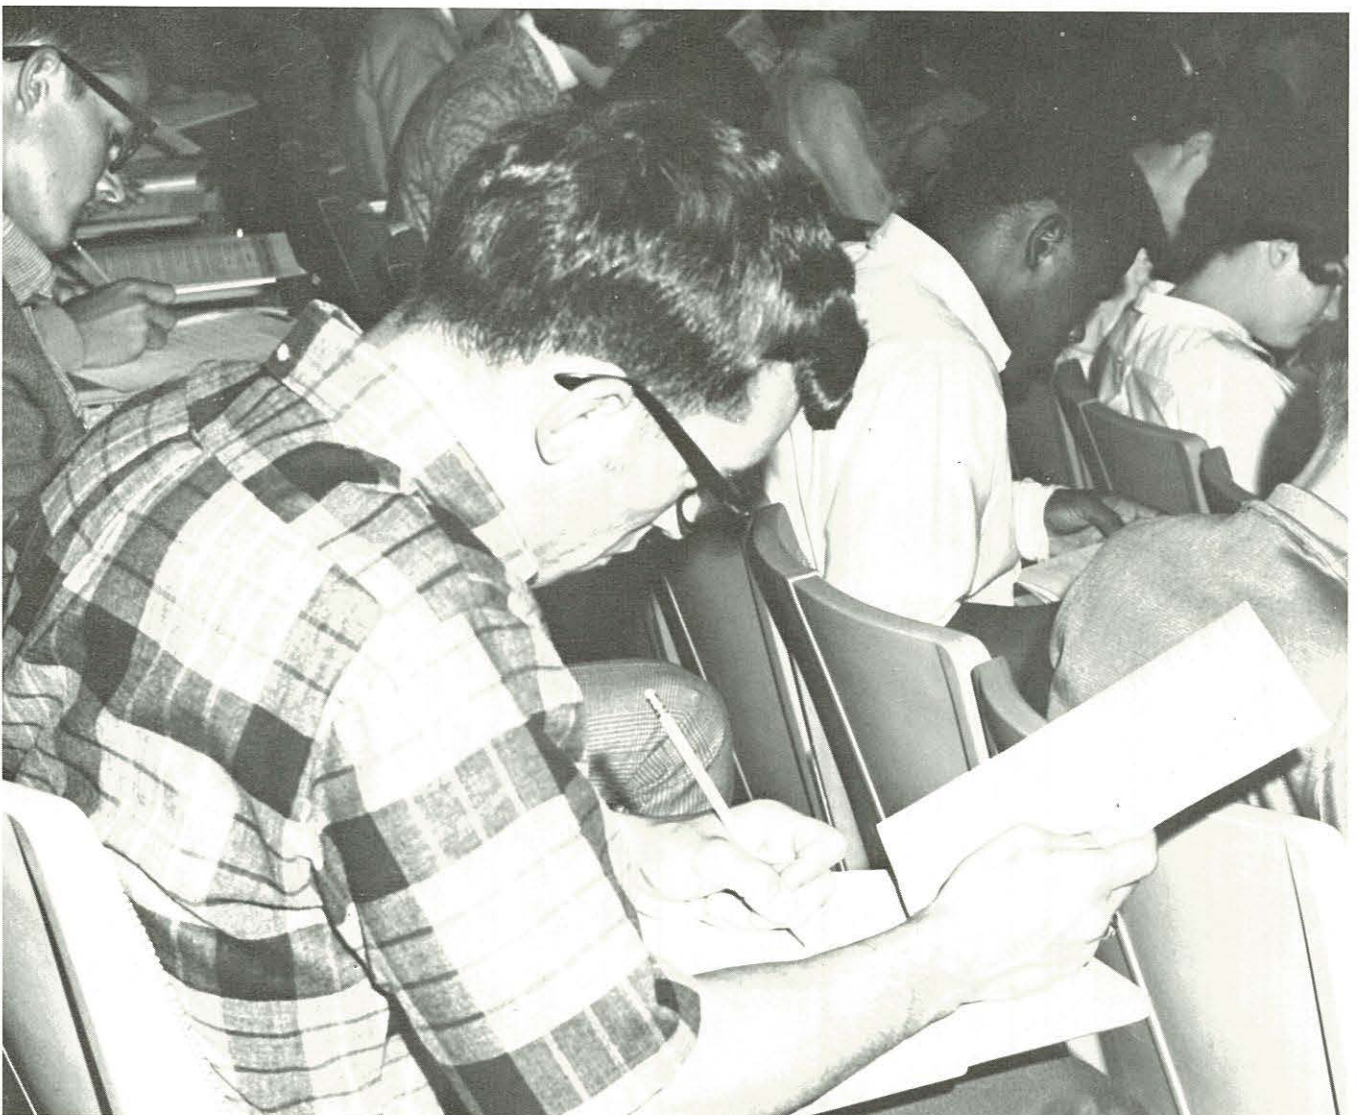

Also added to the campus during the summer was a new shop building.

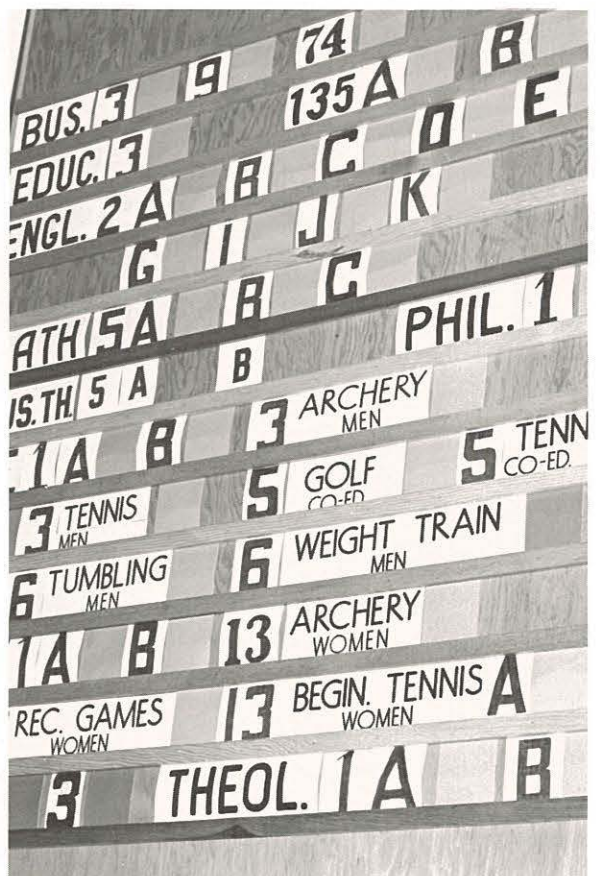

Registration

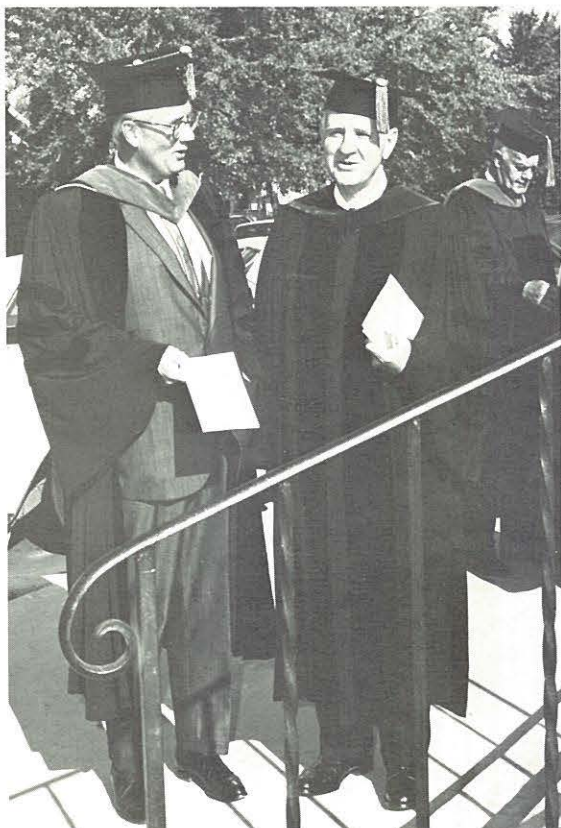

was, as always, forms and schedules and lines. For the old hands the week of September 16-20 was a re-orientation after the brief summer and for the new it was an adjustment to new concepts. It's trying, and when it's all over, it's trying again. Everyone diligently attempted to understand the mass of charts, papers and tests, only to be overcome by the drudgery at one time or another.

Founder's Day

September 27 witnessed the tradition of Founder's Day Chapel with former N.N.C. president, Dr. R. Eugene Gilmore, addressing the convocation, and a luncheon for the Board of Regents, administration, faculty and guests.

The $800,000 H. Orton Wiley Learning Center was dedicated and tours of the modern facility were directed by those who will be responsible for implementing its potential.

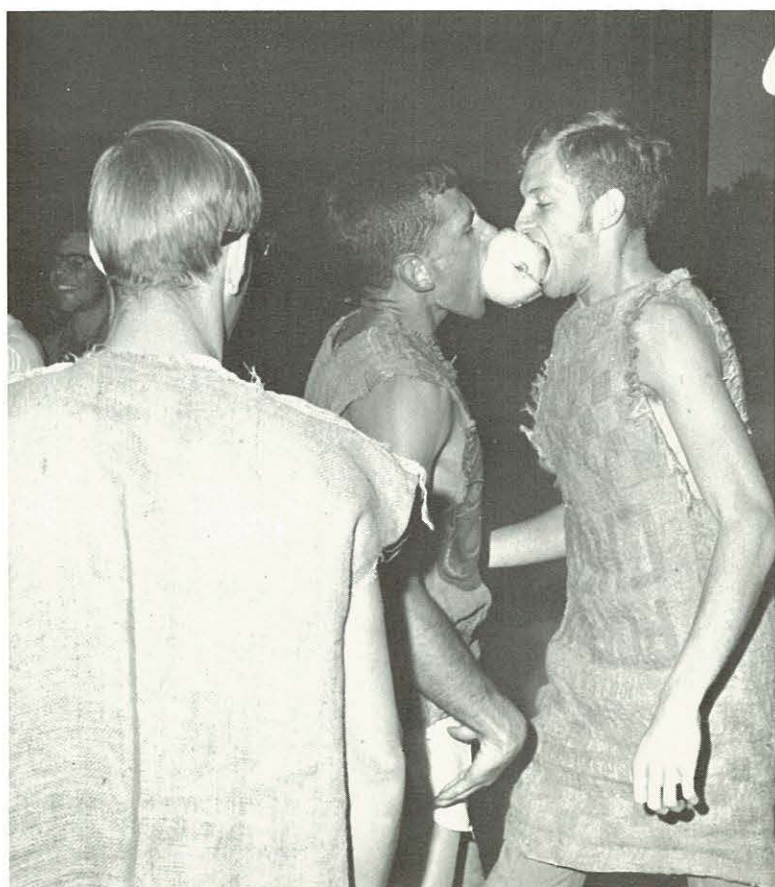

Student-Faculty Reception

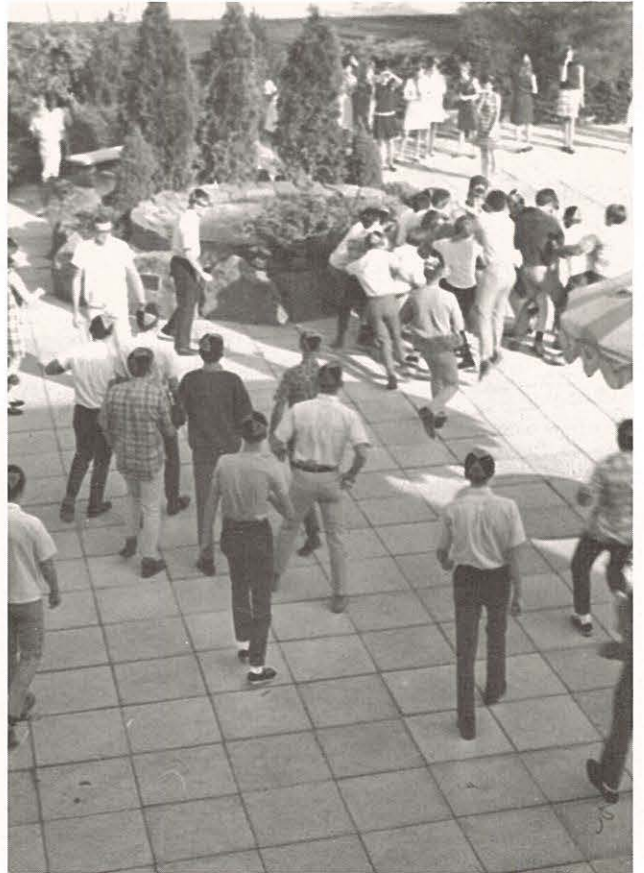

is the first opportunity of the year for new students to meet the faculty and administration in elegance. Leon Fulcher, (above) Student Body President, 1968-69, introduced students to Dr. and Mrs. Riley. Mimi Yoda ((above) came in the formal dress of her country, Japan. Students (left) enjoyed the refreshments and collegiate formality of the occasion.

Initiation

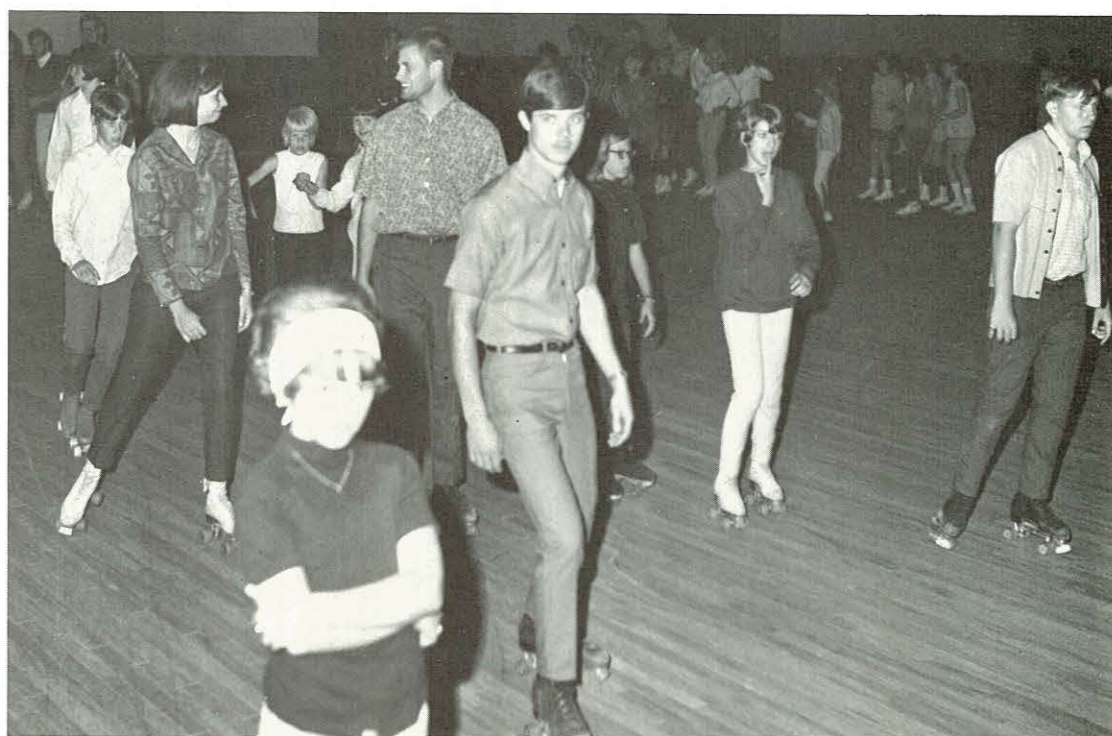

meant onions and burlap sacks for N club initiates and uncertainty, beanies and rising very, very early for the freshmen. Gene Maison (above) was one of a great number who experienced bewilderment in order to gain acceptance. The freshmen were initiated into daily college life, as well as enduring some unpleasantness.

Closed Night

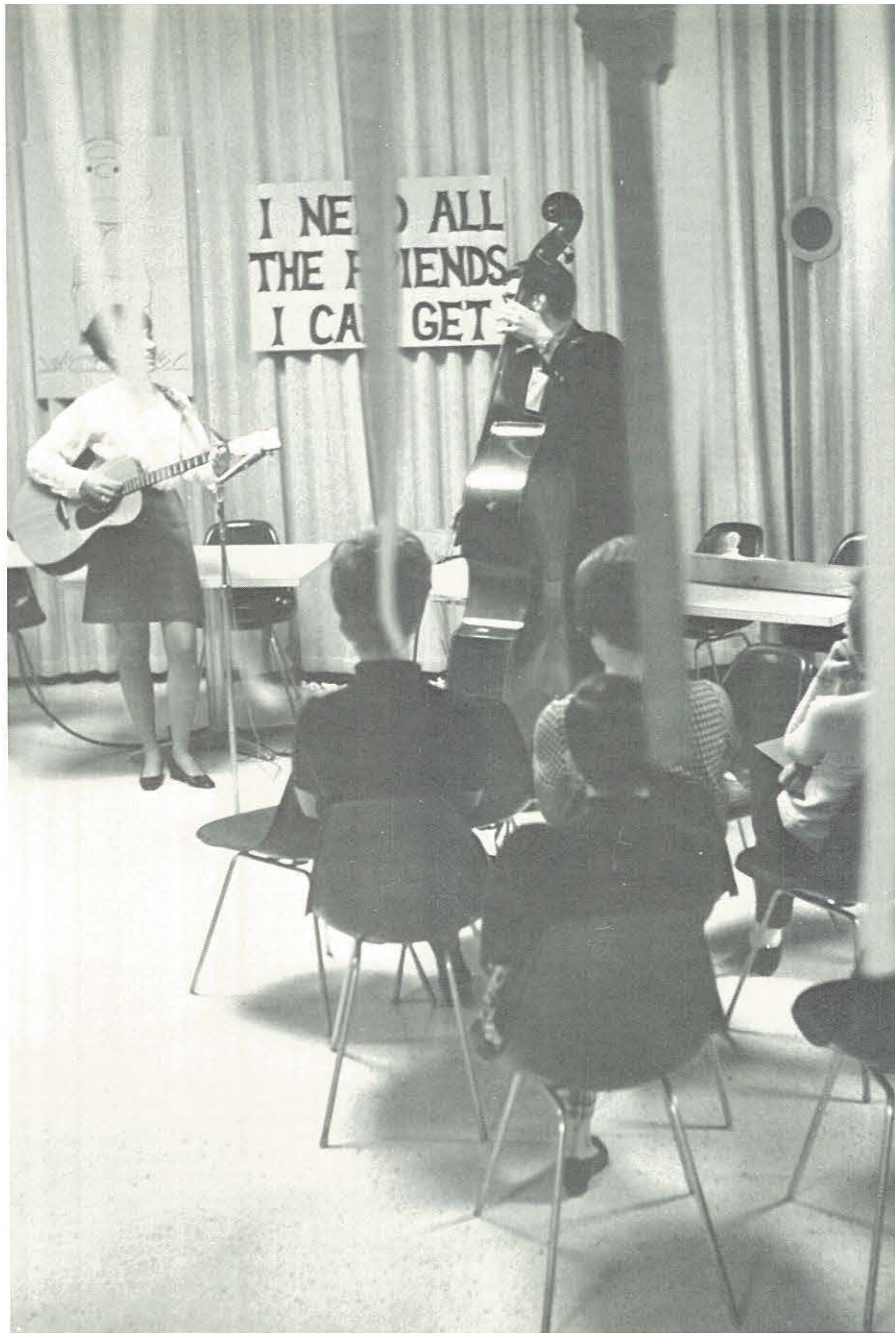

the annual event of separate parties for each of the intramural societies, was held October 4. The societies competed for participation points and bonus points for the society with the most members present. Various activities relieved the pressures of a long week. The L.S.P.'s picnicked at Lakeview Park (far left). Boise's Skateland was the scene of the S.L.A.'s party (far lower left); while the L.S.P.'s were entertained by Stan Kirschmann's display of prowess with a basketball, a talent that was responsible for his former position on the famed Harlem Globetrotter's team. The Oly's took a short jaunt to the nearby Kuna Caves (below).

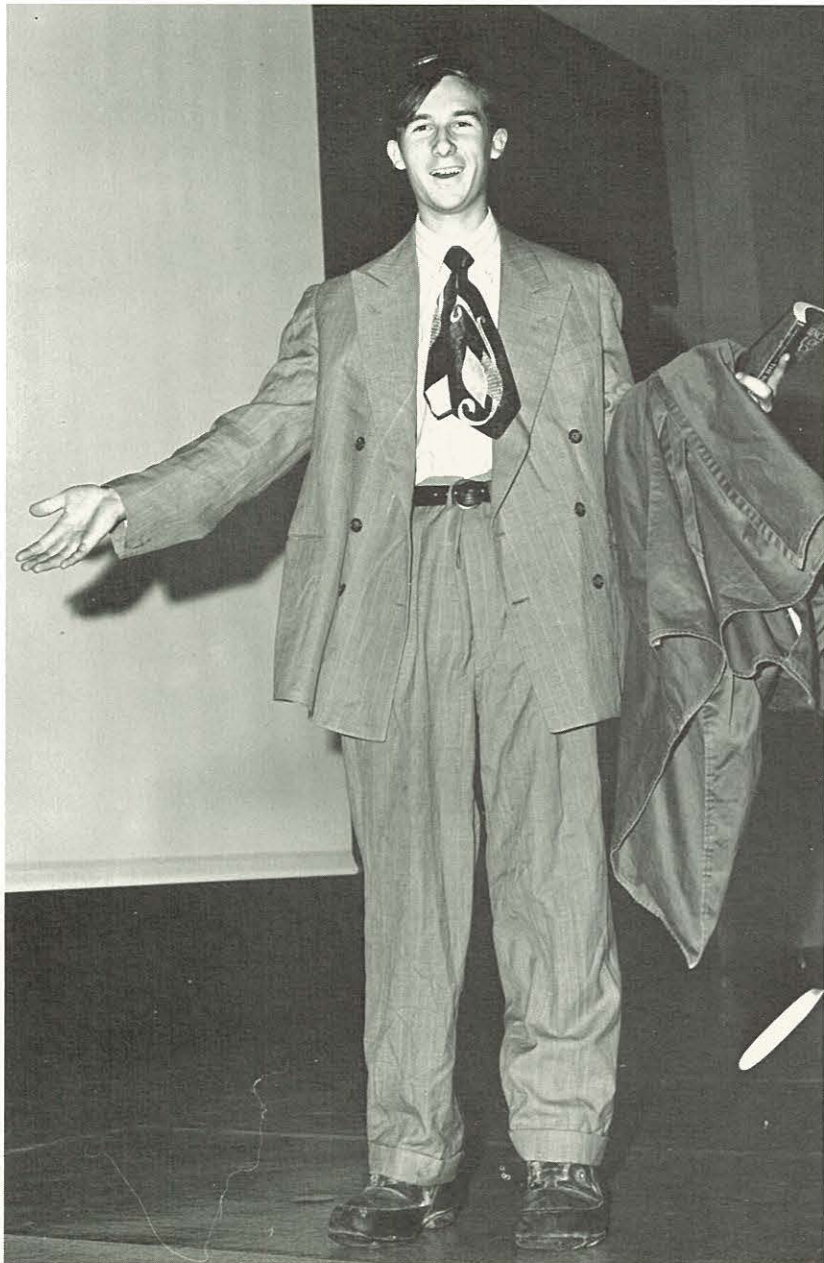

Friendliness and Honesty

The Associated Women Students pursued the ideals of friendliness towards others and honesty with oneself. "Feminine Fling" was an opportunity for big and little sisters to design their own costumes in competition with other pairs.

Second term witnessed the innovation of Heart Cleaning Week with special speaker Mrs. E. B. Hartley. Cheryll Bean, Chris Olsen, and Stan McCracken contributed to an evening of laughter and songs which climaxed the week. A.W.S. also sponsored Twirp Week.

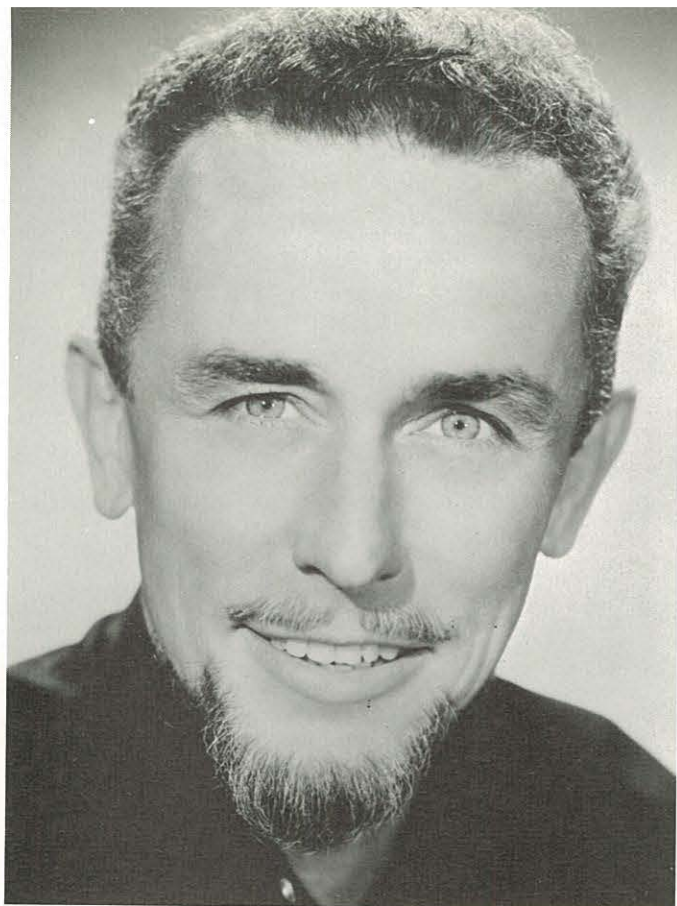

Men's Club

sponsored Stag Night and was active in the Homecoming preparations. Brett Eshelman (above) recited a poem before the ski film. Mr. Dan Etulain and Dave Wilkes (above right) watched as accurate measurements were taken for the beard growing awards. Terry Cantrell, (right) Men's Club President, participated in the crowning of Queen Debbi.

Nampa
Concert Series

The sell-out Nampa Concert Series sponsored several outstanding performers, most of whom appeared first term. The series began with the Suzuki violinists, a group of talented, accomplished children.

Pianist Joel Shapiro soloed one evening and demonstrated a great versatility. Sole designer, creator, and operator of Llord's "International", Daniel Llords showed that marionettes are not for children only. The Western Savoyards performed in the Gilbert and Sullivan tradition.

Special Services Inspire

President Riley addressed himself to the contemporary and immediate issues of the NNC campus and the world during Friday chapels.

Rev. Gordon Wetmore, General Secretary of the NYPS, communicated in dialogue as the special speaker at College Church.

A.W.S. sponsored Mrs. E. B. Hartley in the womens' dorms and a chapel during Heart Cleaning Week.

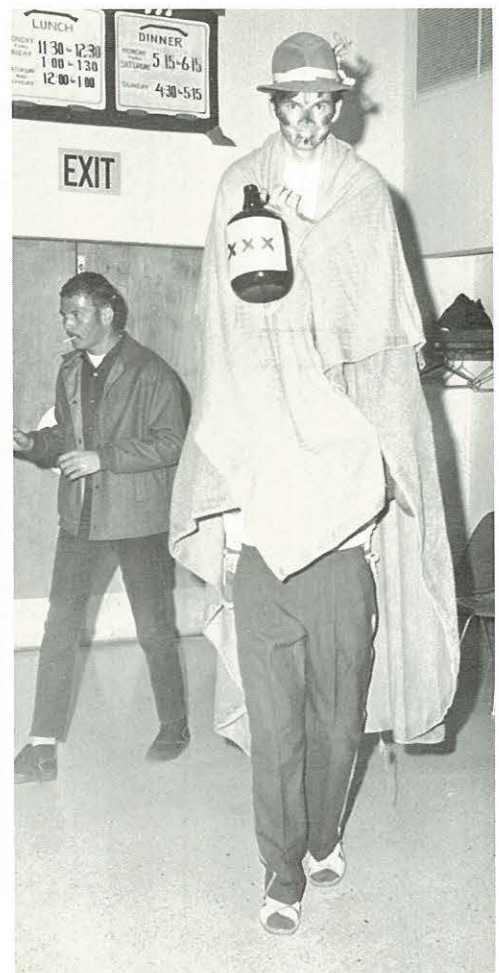

Spiritual Life Week featured the well-known Dr. Ted Martin. Missionary doctor Dr. Howard Hamlin held the attention of the students in chapel and was often sought out on campus by intrigued students.

Halloween

Costumes, candy and tricks helped make a fine Halloween, both in the dining hall and at the A.S.B. party. A broad variety of nationalities, shapes, sizes and ages showed up for the dinner Dick White offered. A cattle truck provided a different mode of transportation to the all-school party. Pumpkin girls helped students up the stairs in the old barn. Brett Eshelman and Ron Seaman were included in the eerie entertainment.

Benefit Concert Sponsors Three Scholarships

Stage Band concerts become more well-known and better attended each year. The excellent performances always enrapture the audiences.

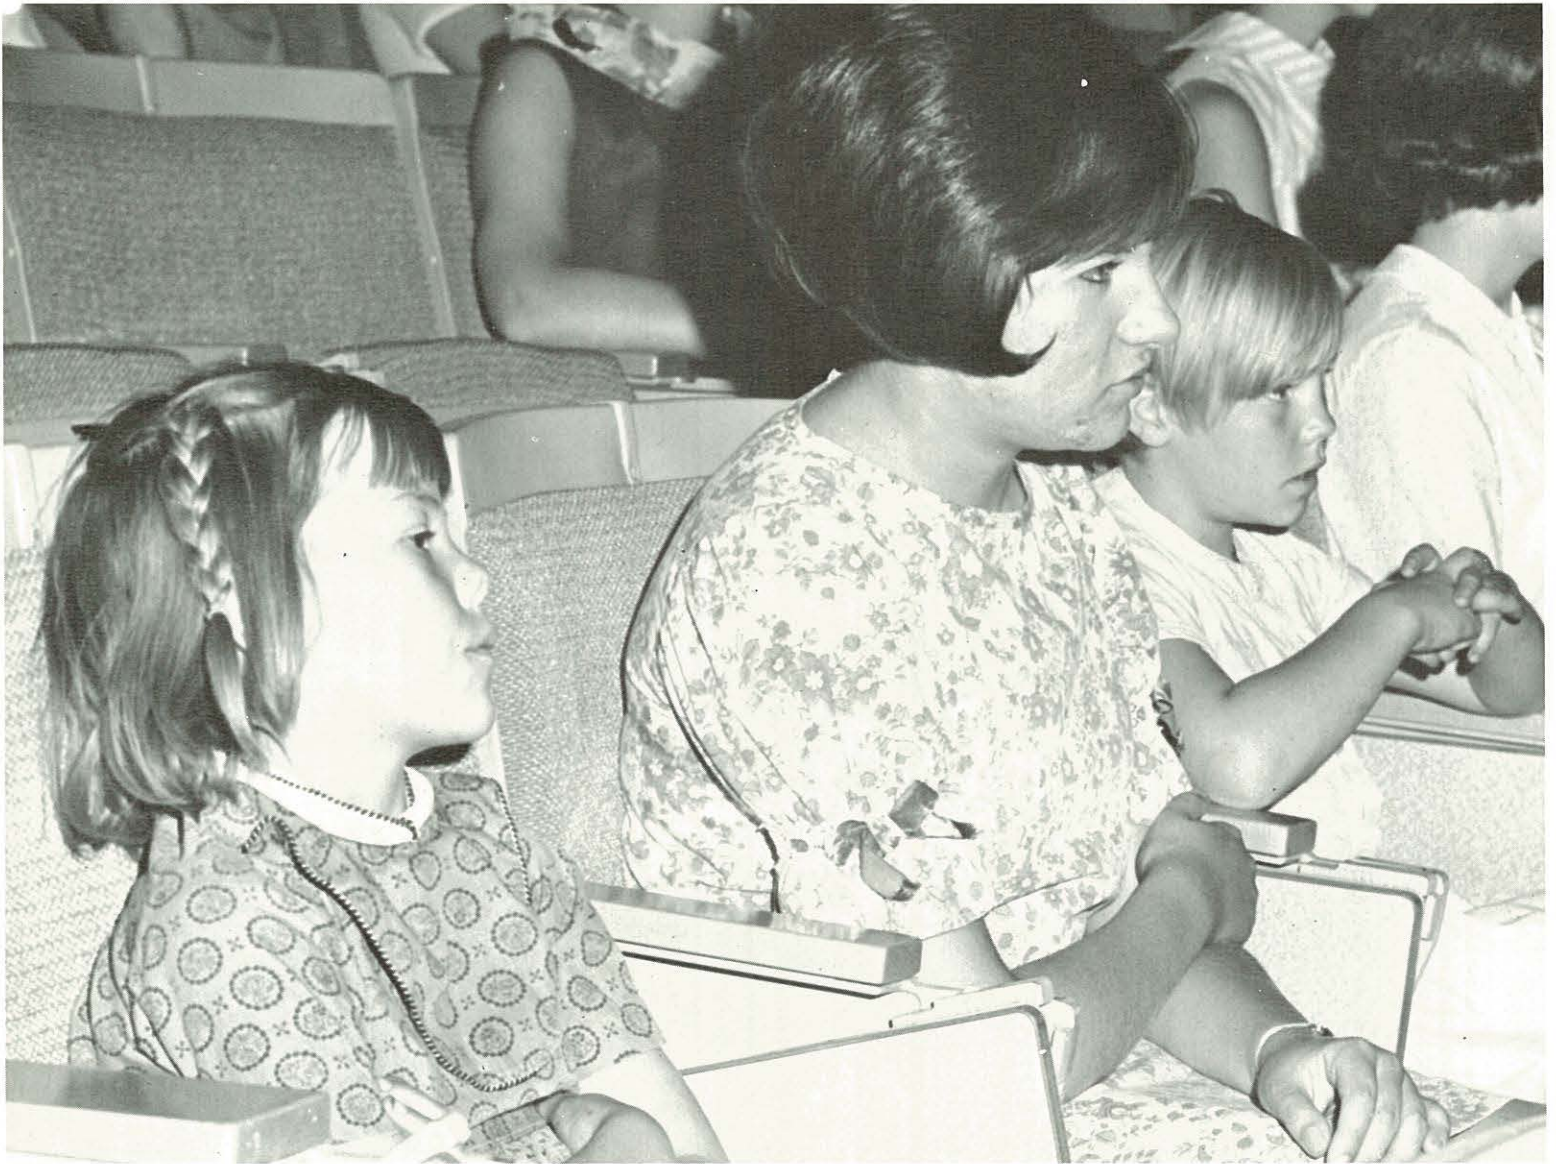

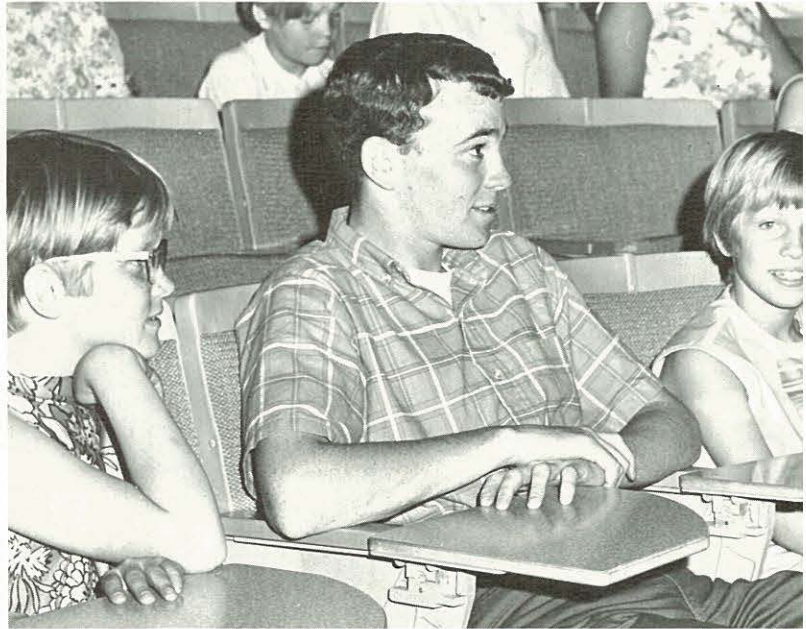

"Uptown Sound" and "The Sweetest Sounds" featured such songs as "A Taste of Honey," "By the Time I Get to Phoenix," "I Can't Stop Loving You," "The Sounds of Silence," "Wait Until Dark," "Georgy Girl," and "It was a Very Good Year."

Buddy Rich arrangements definitely added the professional touch.

The spring concert's proceeds raised three music scholarships for incoming freshmen.

Operation Satisfaction, Community Involvement

For those who want to put love into action Operation Satisfaction provided a demanding stimulus.

Betty Reid has commanded the project since its inception three years ago. She has helped create a firm challenge for those who care. Several activities entertained the children, two of which were a magic show and a matinee performance by Dr. J. Barre Tolkein. Basketball games, dinner, and the children's drama also highlighted the year. The delighted children enriched the college students.

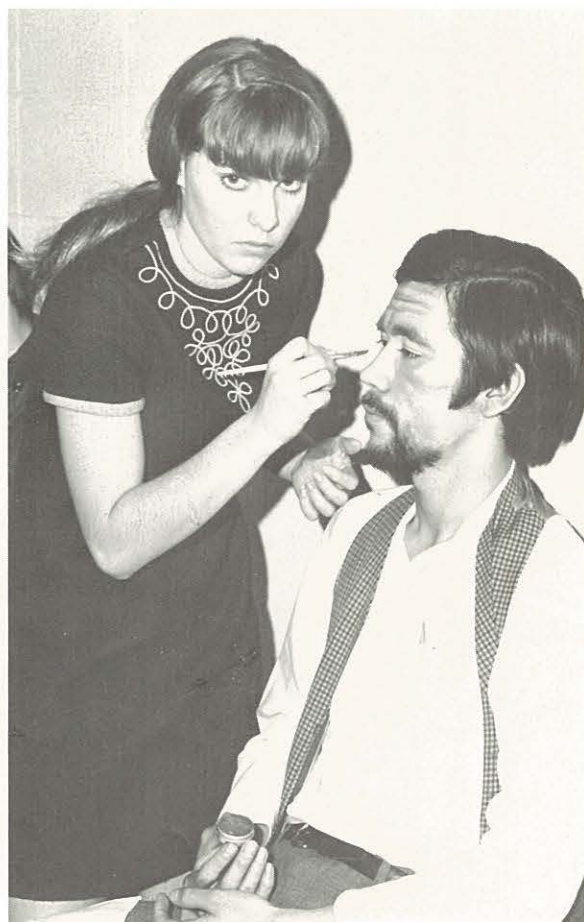

"An Enemy of the People"

Henrik Ibsen was the father of the modern theatre and N.N.C.'s performers proved to be honorable offspring. The play as an entirety was an experience of learning for the performers, entertainment for the audience and thought for all who would. The play consisted of pressure, arguments, moderation and anger, and a man who held firm. Mr. Dan Kirby and Stan McCracken (left) led the preparations. The work was hard, but was justified by the product.

Fine Arts Programs Feature Students

Fine Arts programs, usually on Friday evenings, display the talents of many N.N.C. students and faculty. The recital-style performances were given by Pam Litsey, Randy Coryell, Lee Dale, Caroline Scott, and several others.

University of Idaho's Vandaleer Choir performed excellently for Nampa residents while on their spring tour in March.

Convocations Feature Variety of Speakers

An associate professor at Stanford University and Thubten Norbu, brother of the Dali Lama of Tibet climaxed the Asian Institute program this year. Dr. Lyman P. VanSlyke discussed Red China. Thubten Jigme Norbu lectured about Tibetan Buddhism. The studies ended with a Polynesian dinner with the aid of Saga.

Rev. James Hubbard of the St. Paul's Baptist Church, along with the choir from the same church, initiated Afro-American Day at NNC.

Topic of the Month brought in several guest speakers from out-of-state and locally. Rev. Archie Thornton addressed the student body in the January series on "The Family and Modern Society."

Homecoming

components . . . open house in the dormitories, a game, a play and a reception. Those who worked on "An Enemy of the People" learned new techniques of both on-stage and behind-stage work. Dana Bugh (lower right) concealed a secret during open house. Rudy Evenson and Jim Thompson M.C.ed the "Tonight" show at the after-game reception.

Homecoming

night was an evening of lovely tradition and honour. The queen, Debbi Mottram, was crowned, the band played a fanfare and the basketball team outran the alumni, 103-57.

The princesses attending Queen Debbie were freshman, Joyce Knight; sophomore, Carol Yeend; MaryLou Hoffman and Donna Brown, seniors.

History Through Music

The Junior Musicale was a progression of music from the earliest time in our country through 1968. The Gristle Brothers played from their repertoire of rustic numbers. Lee Dale skillfully performed "Rhapsody in Blue." Jim Gibson put himself into 'Ol' Man River. An assortment of arrangements from humorous, classical, war songs and jazz to rock 'n' roll entertained the enlivened audience.

"... Few Imagine Things Without Greed."

"Aladdin", with his wonderful lamp was a lovely insight into a land of magic and wishes. The story, color and lights were enjoyable to children, parents and students. Bill Burton portrayed the Sultan and Marsha Sauer, Princess Balroulbador, his daughter. Aladdin, the youth of innocence, was Jerry Hampton. Brett Eshelman played the Genie of the Ring and Bill Barror the Magician.

The Children's Drama project was directed by Mr. Mel Schroeder, who, with the help of actors, actresses and stage people, used modern equipment and ideas to produce a delightful performance.

Choirs and Northwesterners in Concert

The Northwesterners, under the direction of Dr. D. E. Hill, presented their annual Christmas concert with a mixture of madrigal numbers and Christmas songs. A variety of carols sung in French, German, and English was included.

Mr. Marvin Stallcop led the College Choir, composed mainly of freshmen, in Handel's "Messiah" Homecoming weekend. The choir also featured "The Peaceable Kingdom".

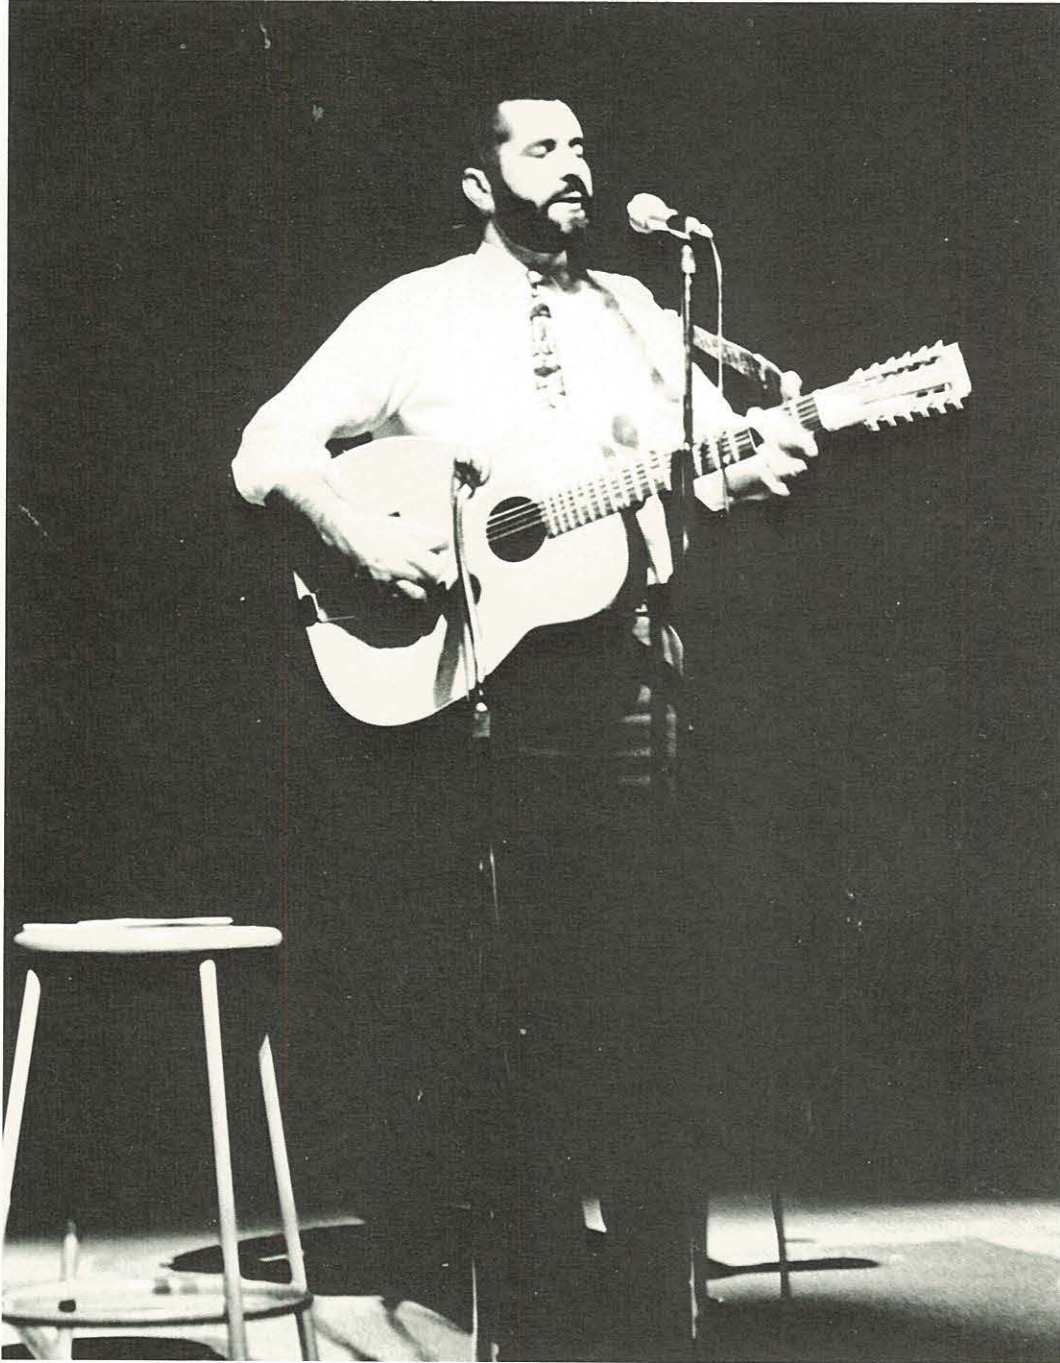

The voices of the Crusader Choir have been heard in several special chapels. A tour during spring term highlighted the year for the group directed by Mr. Marvin Bloomquist.

Dr. J. Barre Toelkin Renders Second Audience Pleasing Concert

The University of Oregon English professor returned to again play and sing for and with an appreciative audience. His extensive traveling has reaped many songs of America's heritage of folk music.

The afternoon of May 10, 1969 initiated his brief visit as a matinee performance was offered as an Operation Satisfaction activity. The evening concert again gave Toelkin a chance to conduct an enjoyable learning session consisting of singing, clapping, and group participation interspersed with lecture.

“... Standing in

Broken Stairways,
where the feet
Stumble, as they seek to climb”
Longfellow

Broken Stairways was an example of total theatre through the presentation of "The Hole," "The Acting Lesson" and "The Terrible Meek."

It was an exciting presentation of how contemporary man stands very much alone. He feels alienated from his brothers, his God, and himself. The traditional channels to meaning and understanding are frustrated and the staircases upon which man has always climbed to completeness are broken . . . Broken Stairways showed light on the broken steps.

Cyndee Eady (above left) as Mrs. Meso and Sue Weaver as Mrs. Ecto often commented about their husbands in the absurd play entitled "The Hole". Paul Sutherland as Pupil One fought images in his mind while Bill Barror, the acting instructor, prompted him in "The Acting Lesson."

Larry Wilson as Endo, Stan McCracken as Cerebro and Brett Eshelman as Soma peered into the hole frequently with their petty thoughts in mind. The Pupiless (above) Chris Olsen, greedily accepted the offer of marriage from Pupil Two when she learned that they will receive $100,000.00 tax free annually, because "Women usually marry a type." Dan Kirby (below) supervised the fragments which made a commendable whole of total theatre.

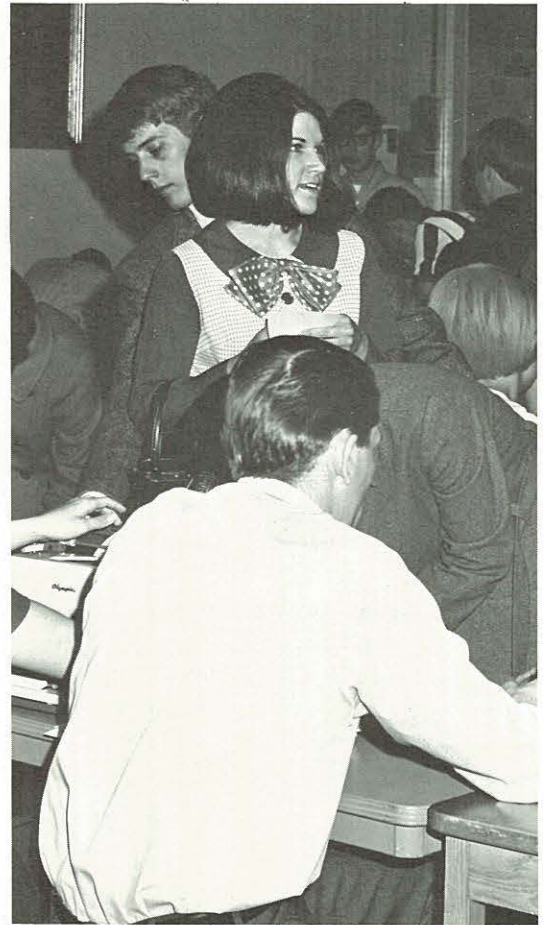

Senior Day Amidst Commotion of Elections

Prospective students viewed NNC through the confusion and chaos of ASB presidential elections. Approximately eight hundred "extra" people circulated on campus for the Bible Quiz Championships for the educational zone, and senior day, the weekend of April 17-19.

In one of the closest elections in NNC's history Mark Clark of Nampa defeated Bob Luhn of Spokane for 1970 ASB President. Darlene Walker campaigned successfully for Vice President in Charge of Social Life and Duane Dale worked his way past his opponent for the Executive Vice President position.

In later general elections, Paul Stallcop won reelection for treasurer and Jan Friberg was elected secretary. Both were unopposed.

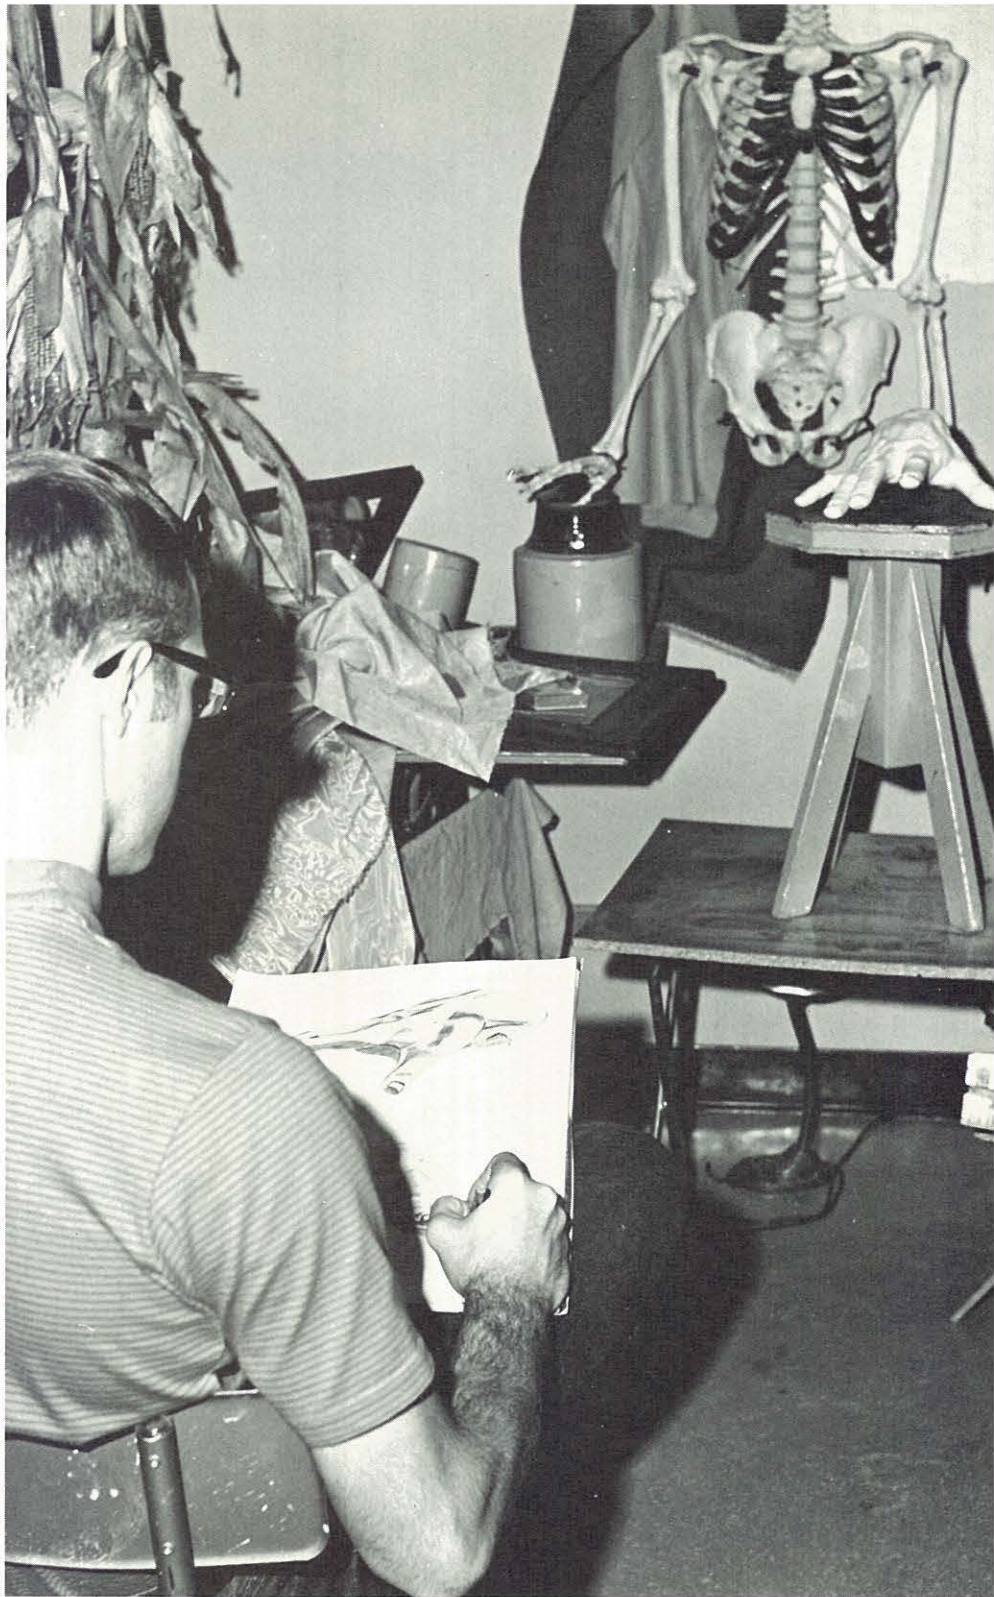

The sixth annual Nazarene Student Leaders Conference was hosted by NNC this year on April 24 and 25. Leon Fulcher, ASB President, chaired the large gathering's business meetings.

Frosh and Sophs. Combined Parties

Early first term the two lower classes joined for their first party of the year. Pillows were plenteous in the bean as the sophomores planned and executed the pillow party.

Second term was just right for a freshman class party at Bogus Basin. Sophomores sponsored several after-game parties to raise money for the class.

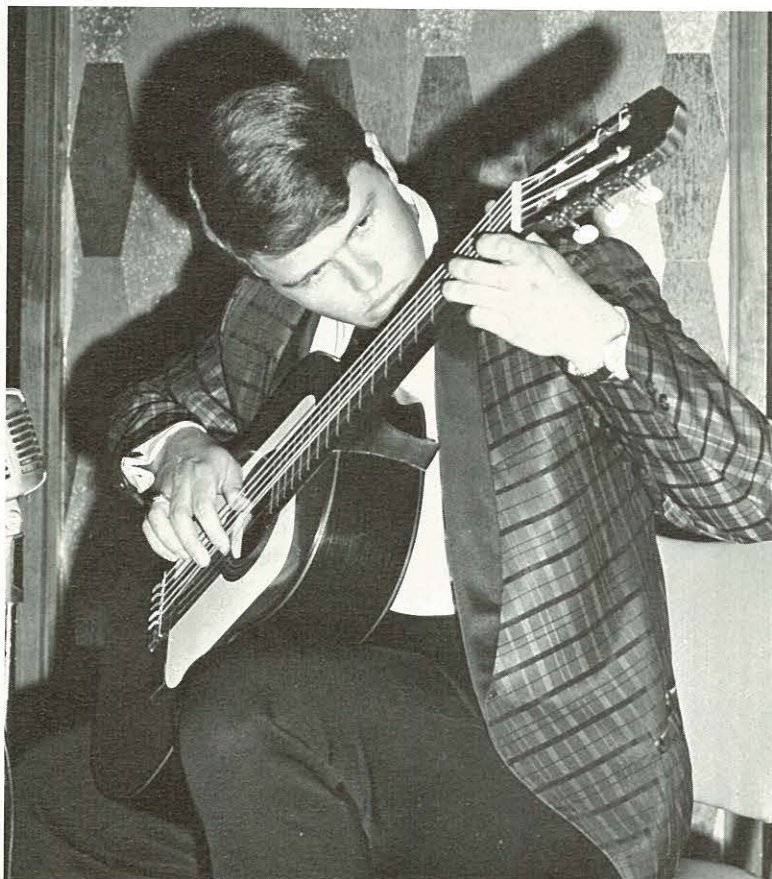

Again third term the two largest classes united efforts to produce a party of entertainment, food, and a difficult treasure hunt. Clues were scattered all over the campus and kept everyone guessing.

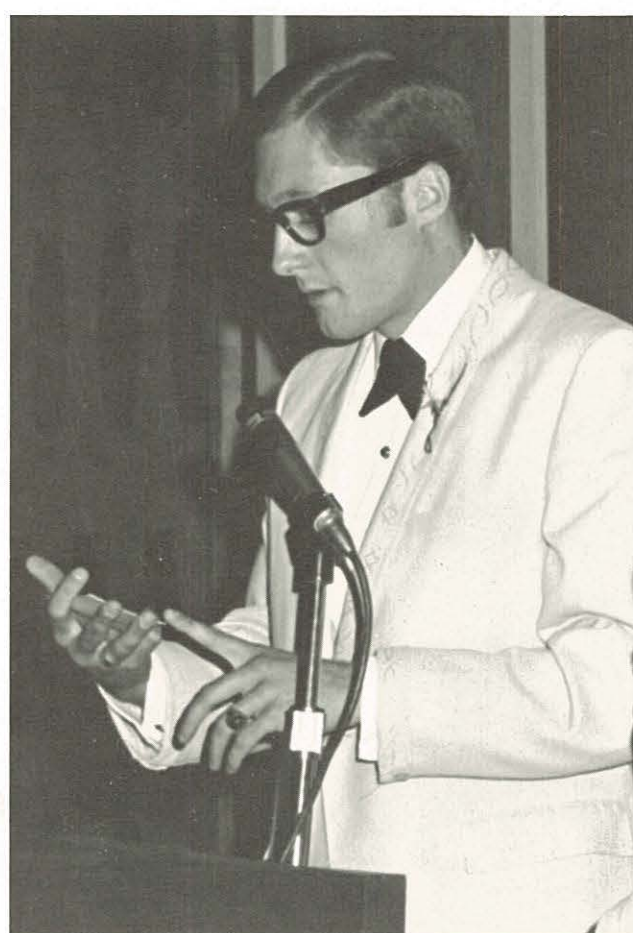

Juniors and Seniors Banquet in the Spanish Style

May 9 was a date to be remembered for many juniors and seniors as the banquet honoring them was served at the Downtowner in Boise.

Spanish decorations and atmosphere prevailed. Included in the setting was entertainment by a flamenco guitarist, and skits by Paul Sutherland, Randy Meenach, and Mary Beth Salisbury. A dramatic part of the evening was the appearance of the tor-eador with a bull to intimidate.

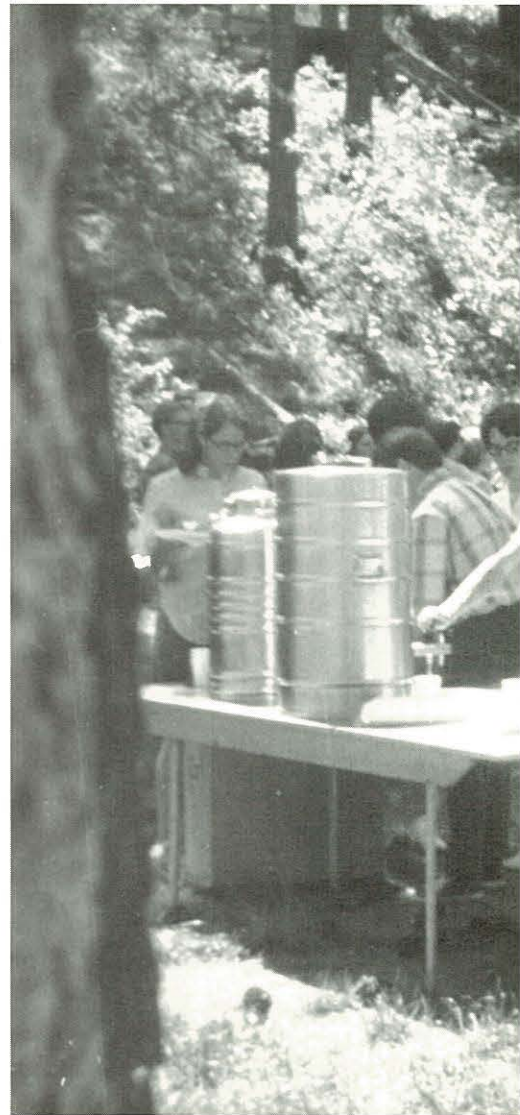

When it is spring time, third term, care-free but loaded with studies then is the perfect occasion for an all-school picnic at Idaho City.

An hour's drive put NNC in another world, one of a century ago. Idaho City houses many relics of the gold rush. More relaxing however, was the balm of nature upon those who daily pursue a steady routine.

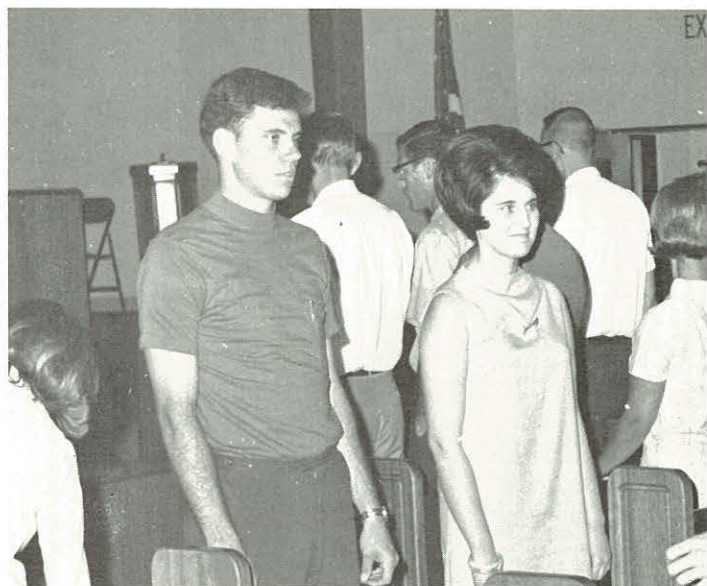

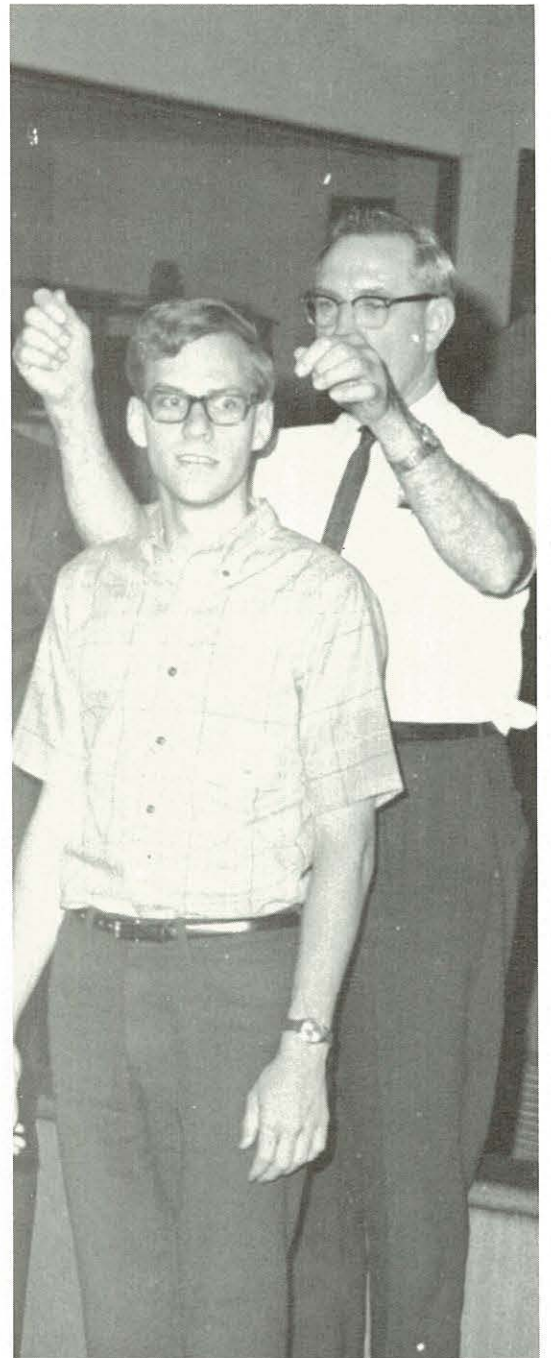

Food, games, and sight-seeing occupied the students' time. And if that was not sufficient, then, as all typical college students do, they created their own fun.

Largest Graduating Class in History

Commencement 1969 witnessed the graduation of 217 students with a bachelor of arts degree from Northwest Nazarene College. Thus far it was the largest graduating class.

Graduation exercises were preceded by at least four years of rigorous study climaxed by the night of June 9, 1969.

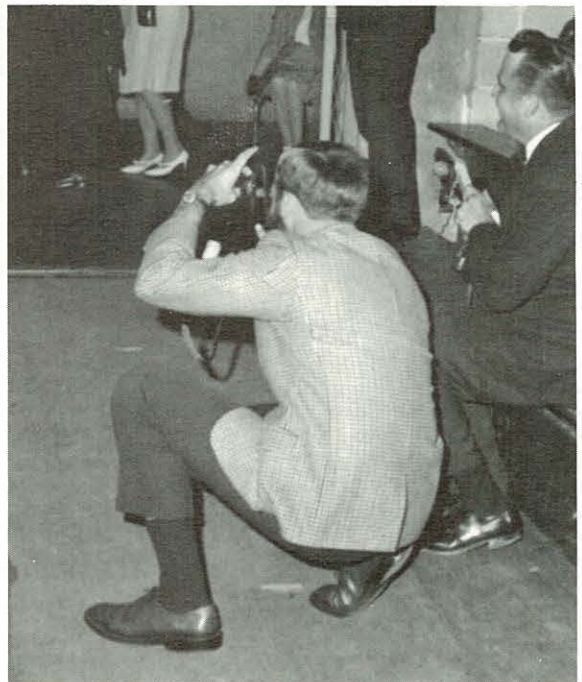

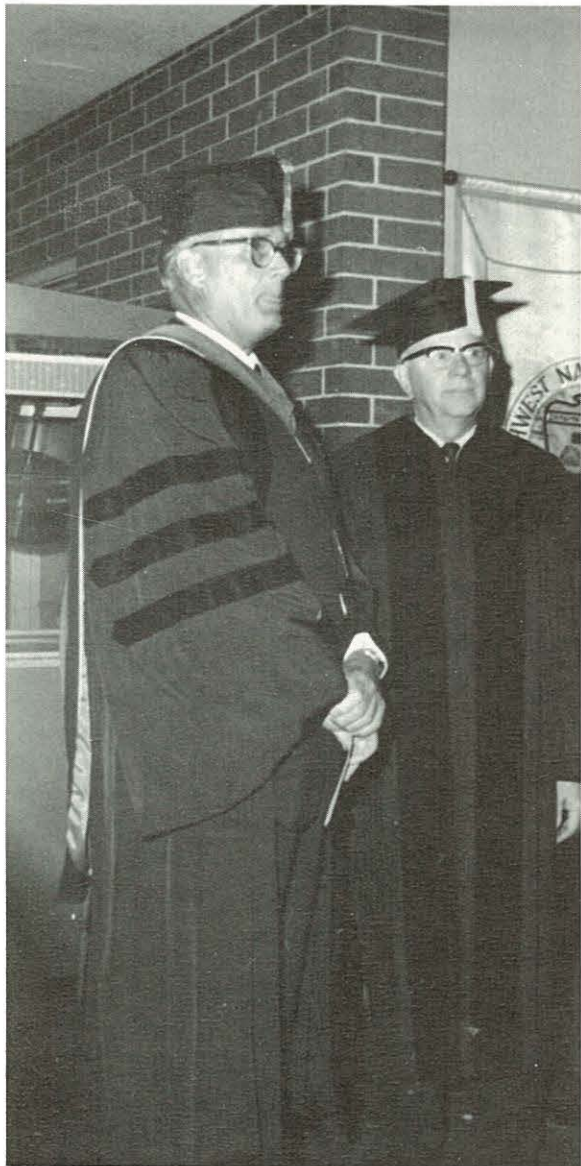

Sunday prior to commencement occasioned baccalaureate, the hooding of the candidates, a vesper service, an art display, the annual theological program with Rev. Donald Moore of Seattle First Church as speaker.

Monday began with a breakfast honoring the new members of Phi Delta Lambda. The traditional last chapel featured the introduction of parents. A tea for senior women was held in the afternoon.

Guest speaker for commencement was Dr. David L. McKenna president of Seattle Pacific College. His address was followed by the individual presentation of degrees.

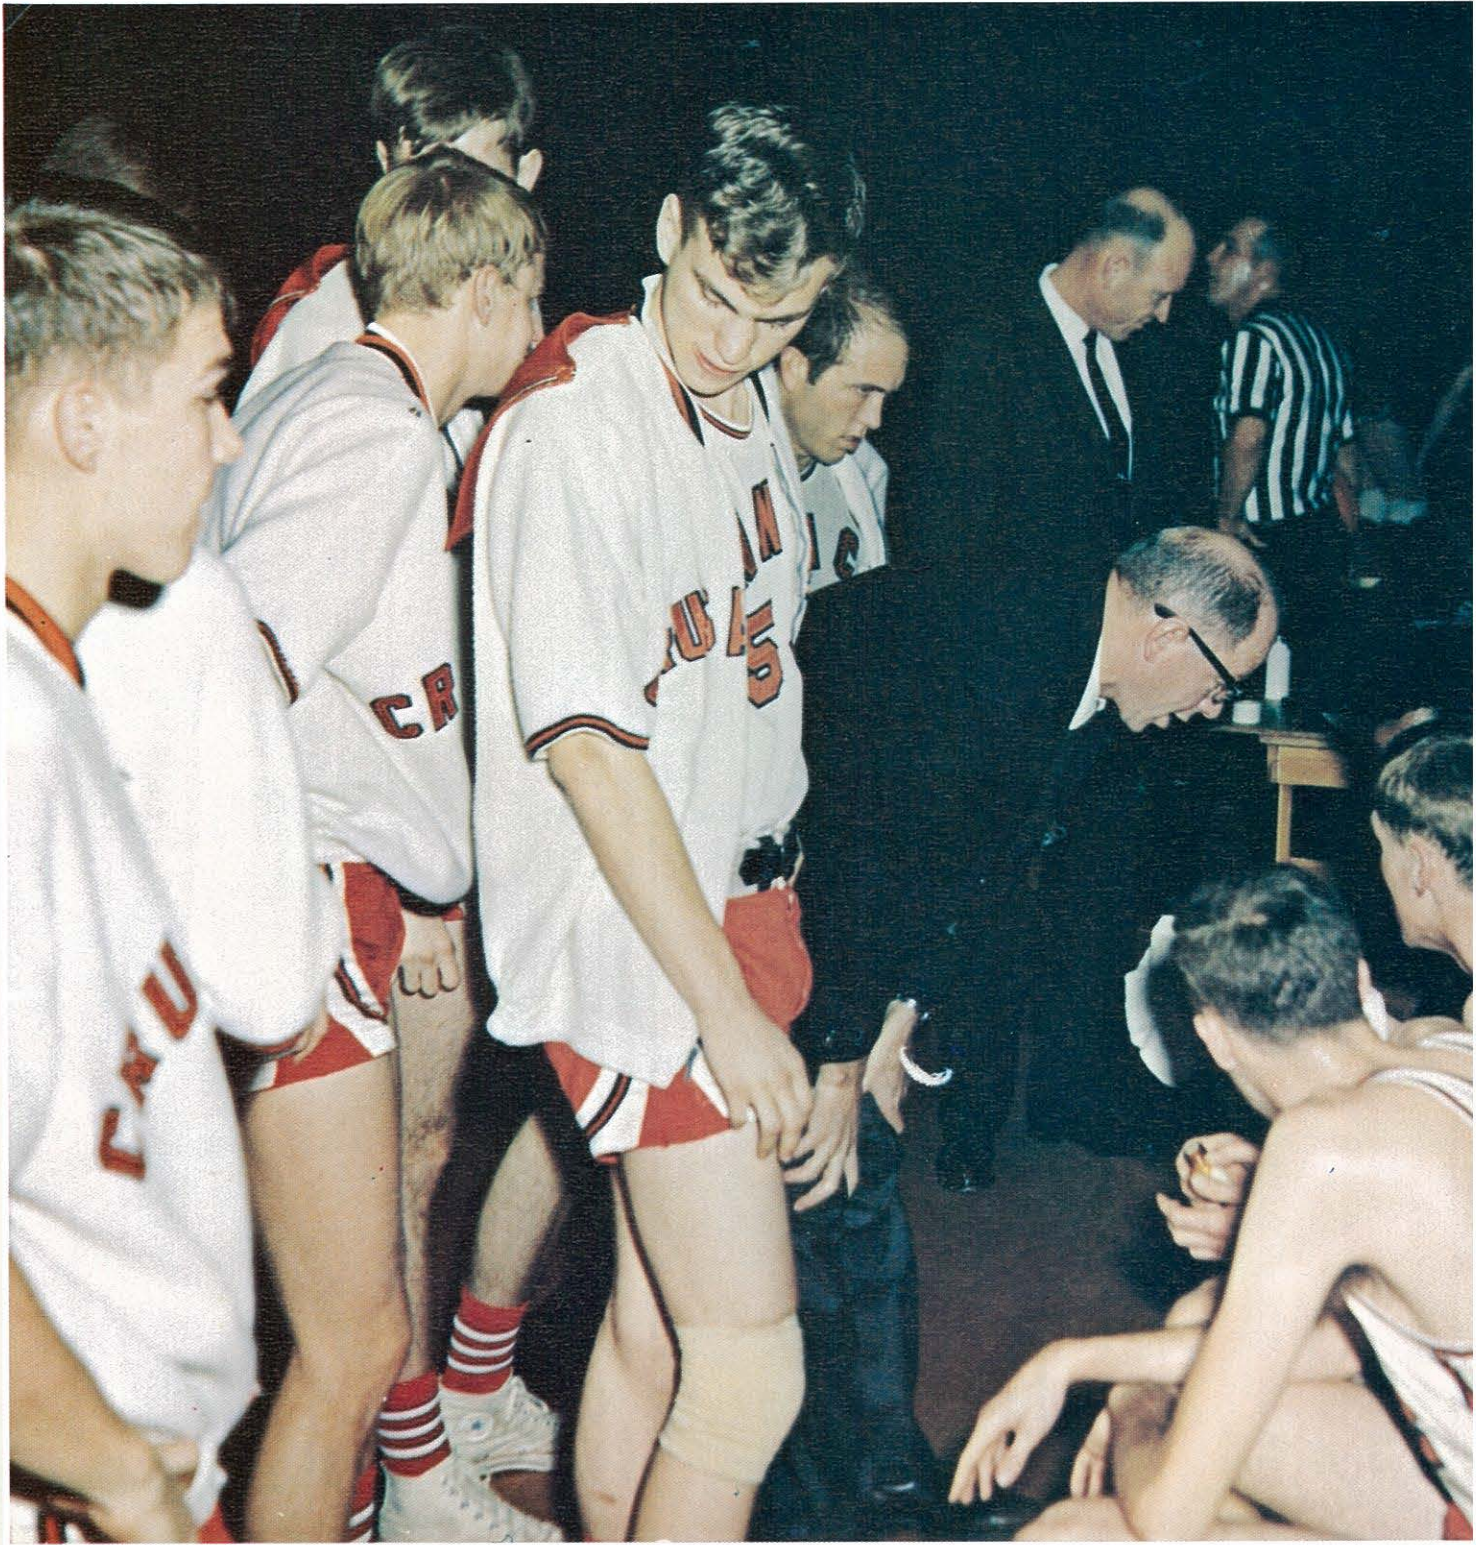

Confusion reigned for a few moments as congratulations were exchanged and last good-byes uttered reluctantly. The Class of 1969 was no longer the senior class.

Cross Country

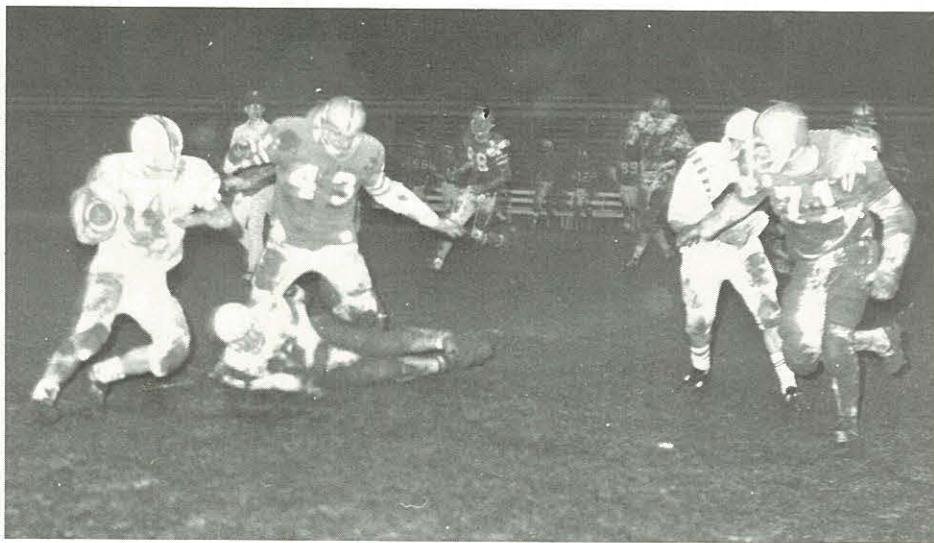

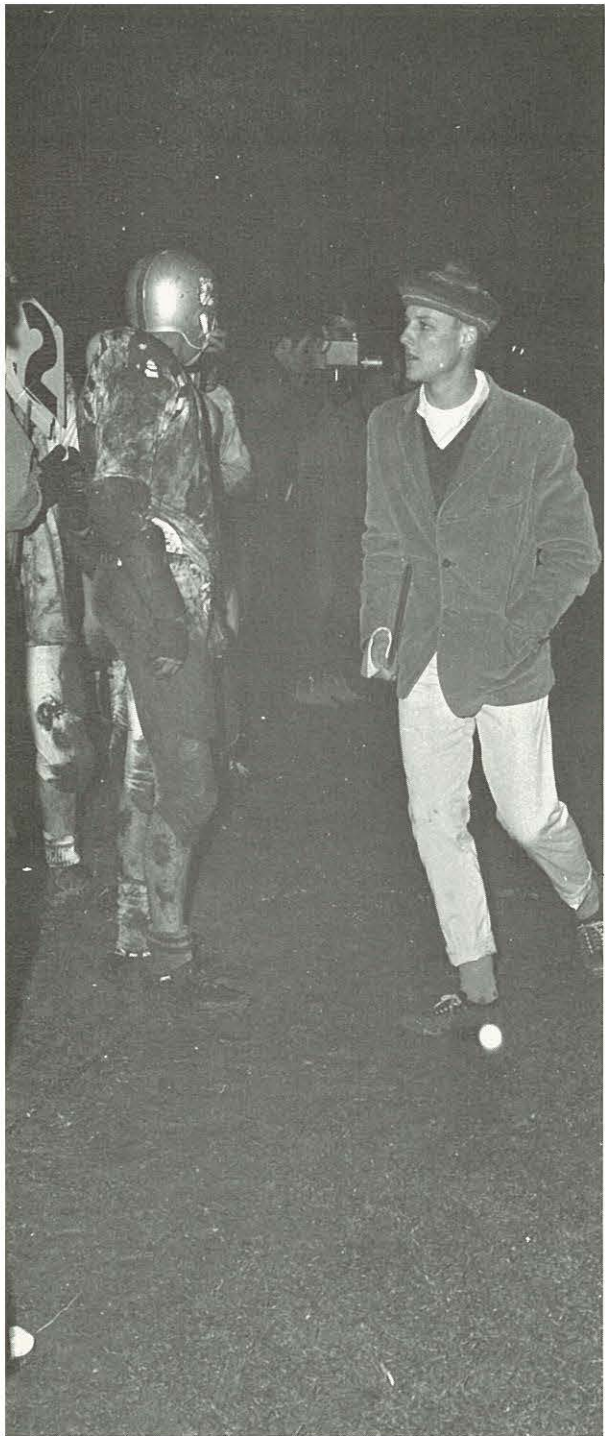

Harriers Finish Third in District

The NNC Cross Country team completed another successful season during the 1968-69 school year. It competed against nine different teams in District II, losing only to two of them—University of Idaho and Idaho State University. At the District II NAIA cross country meet, NNC finished third for the highest finish ever by the Crusaders in the cross country season. With every member of the team returning next year, prospects for continued improvement and success are hopeful for NNC.

NNC'S First Gridiron Action

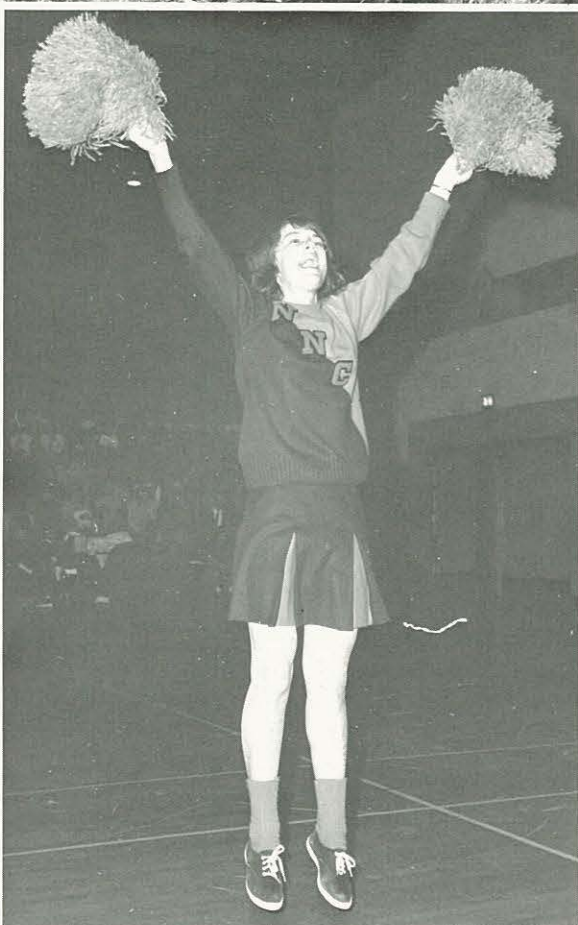

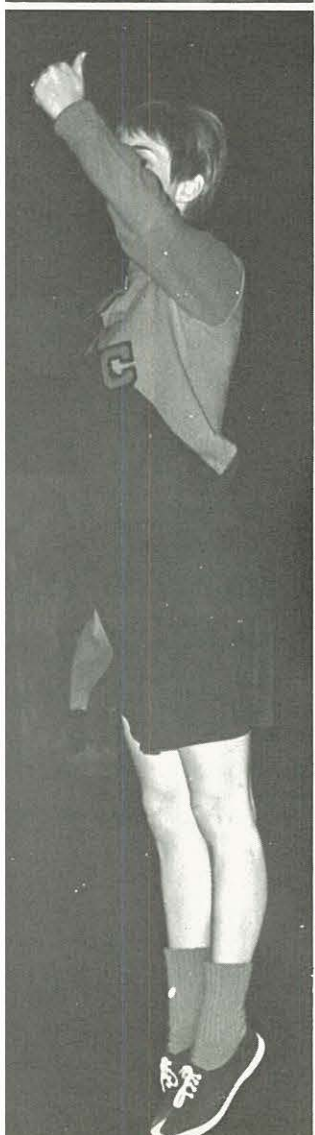

Thirty NNC students teamed up for the Crusader's first Grid Iron game against the Nampa Jaycees. With equipment from Nampa High School, the game was played under official football conditions, mud and rain. Gary Lawhead scored the winning and only touchdown of the game. The coach for the pigskinners was Bill Venn.

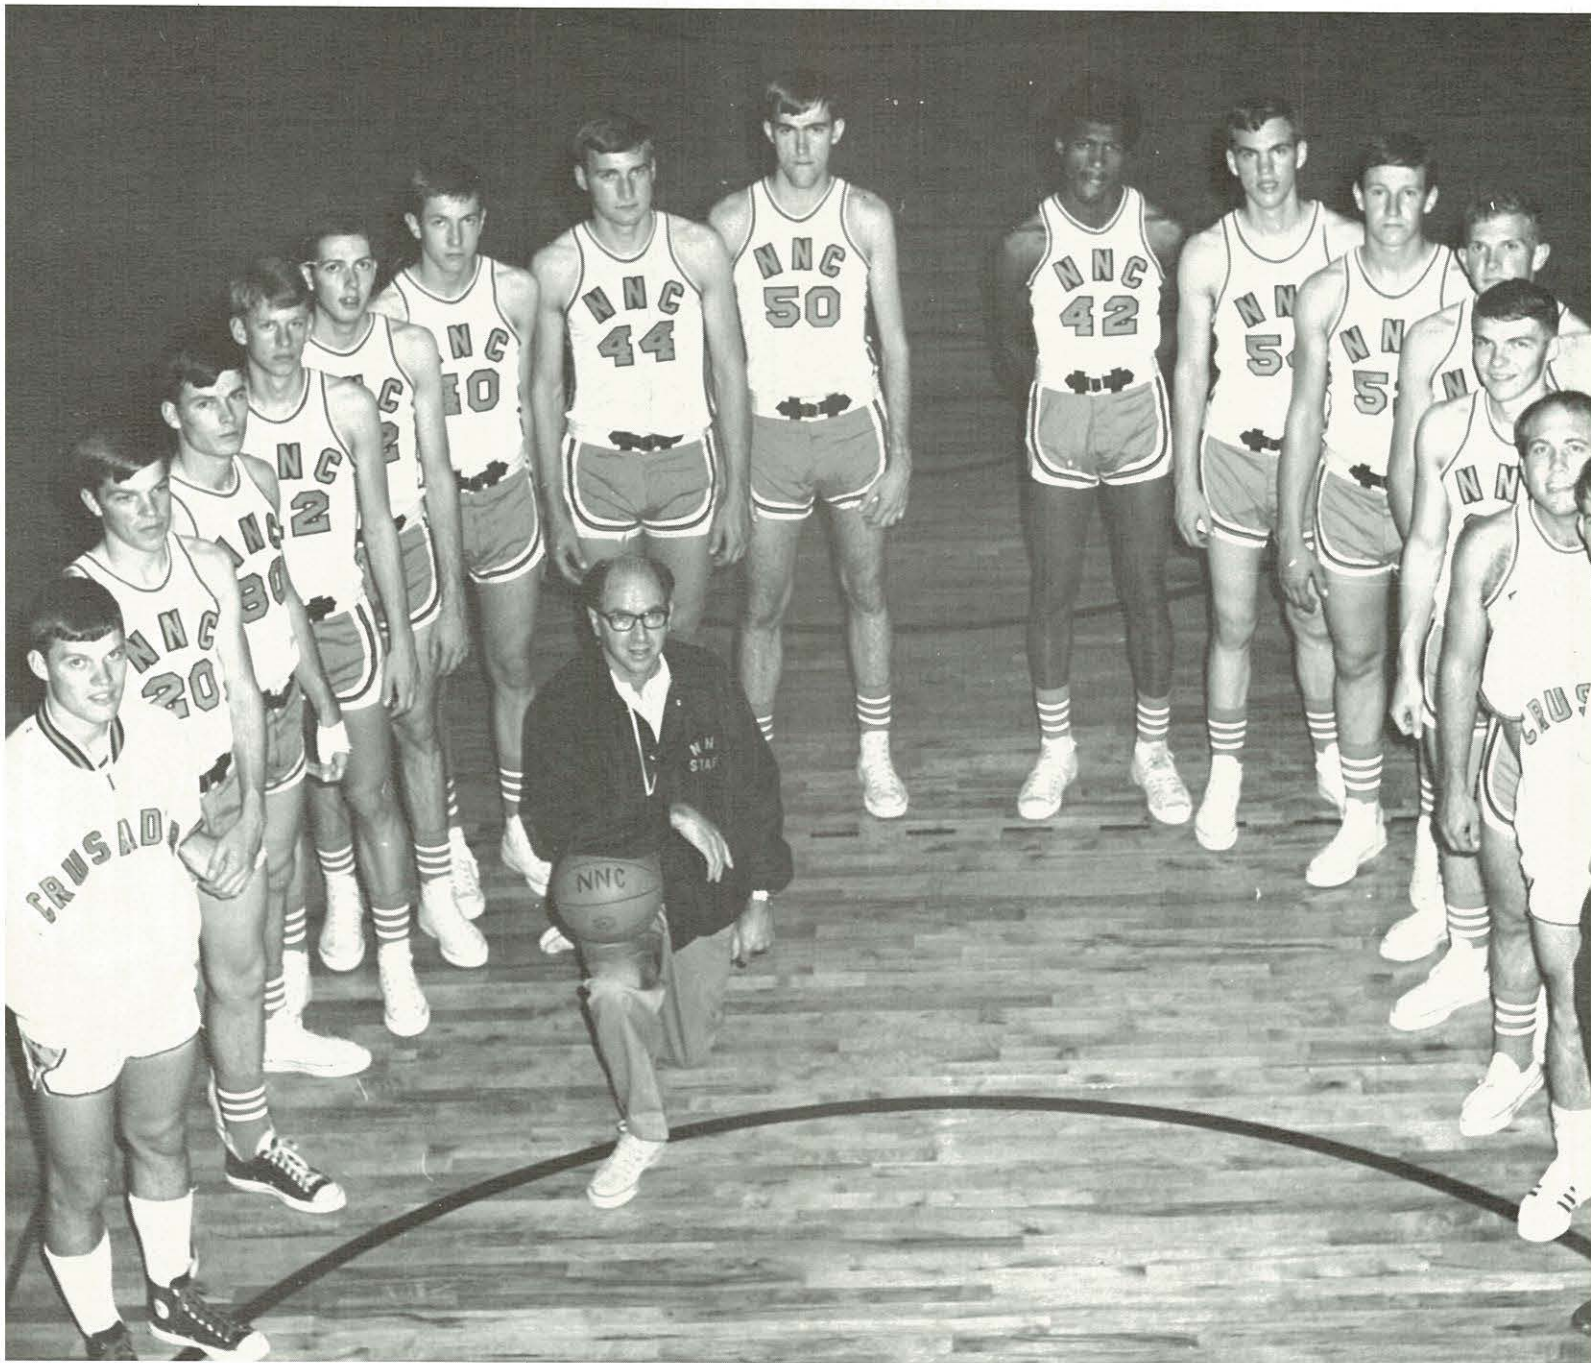

Creating spirit is the job of the cheerleaders, and they have done their job well. With cheers, pep talks, "sock-it-to-them" yells the cheerleaders helped the players feel the school support. Our 1968-69 rally squad, composed of Donna Brown, Craig Fritsch, Colene Chaney, Carol Yeend, and Dan Little (group picture) perfected many routines by practicing regularly.

Basketball

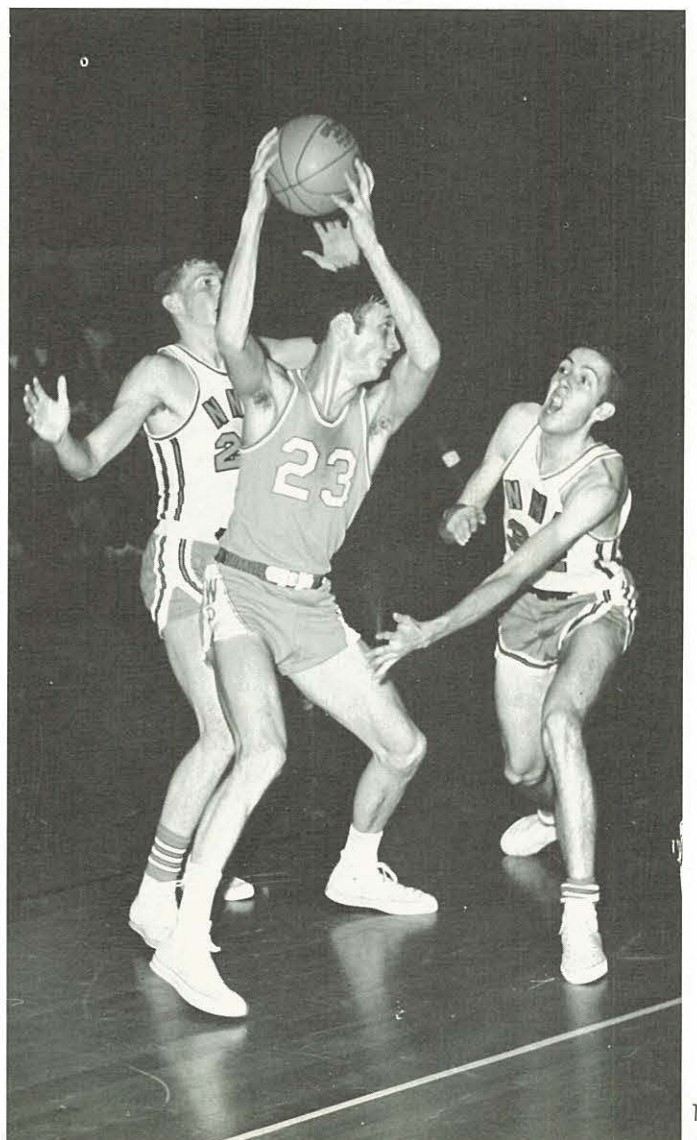

1968-1969

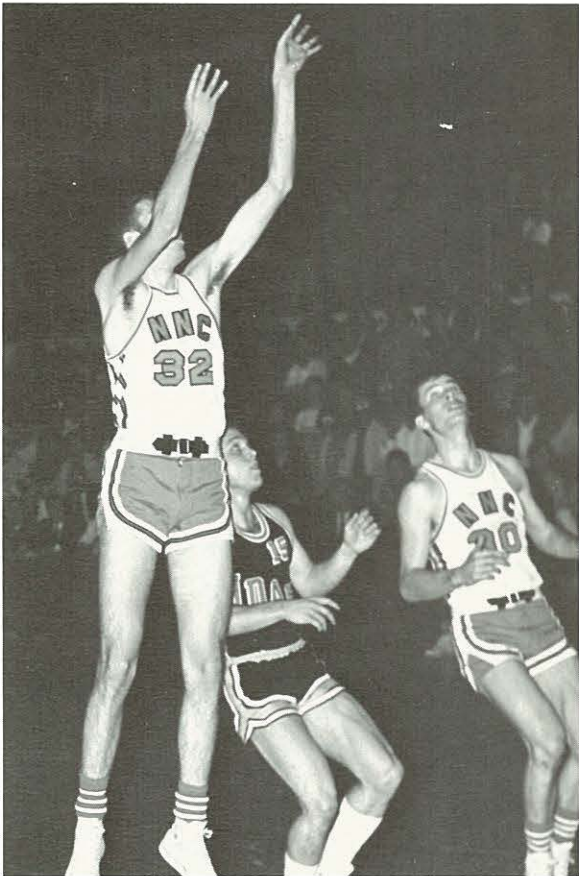

With experienced, expert coaching, and a comparatively young team, NNC zoomed to a 17-9 win-loss record. Playing a tough schedule of competition, including Westminster College and Boise State College, NNC improved in strength and ability.

Gary Lawson led total rebounding, averaging 14.0 snatches a game. Steve Sharp was high-point man, shooting a total of 394 points for the entire season and averaging 15.1 points per game. Other regular starters were John "Rock" Simmons, Steve Sandlin, Al Blacklock, Bob Luhn, and Chuck Robinson.

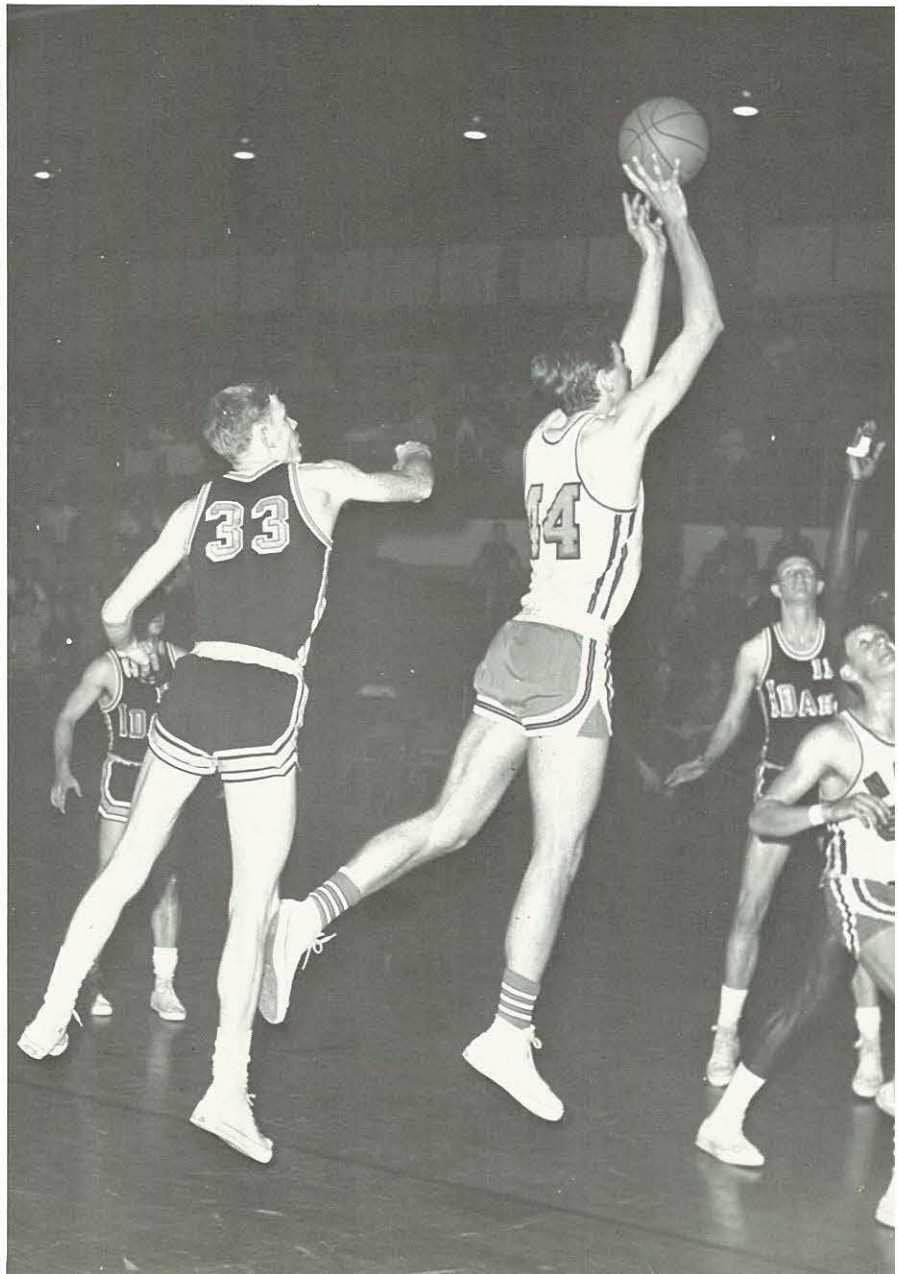

The Crusaders totaled a composite score of 2089 points to their opponents' 2004 points, proving that it was a close season. The Crusader game average was 80.3 points per game as compared with 77.0 for the opponents.

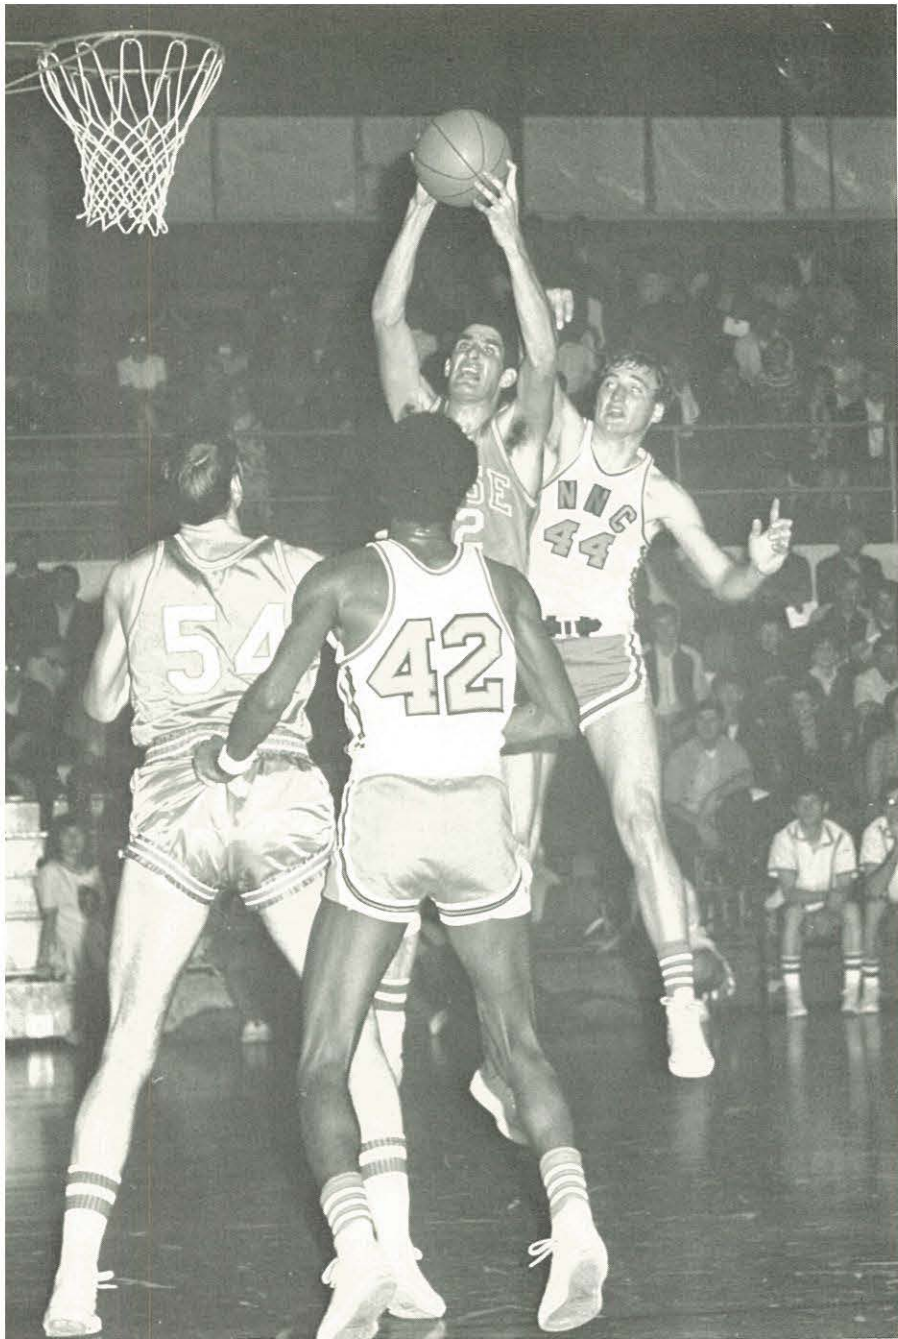

With no seniors on this year's team, the NNC Crusaders can look forward to more winning seasons.

Wrestling

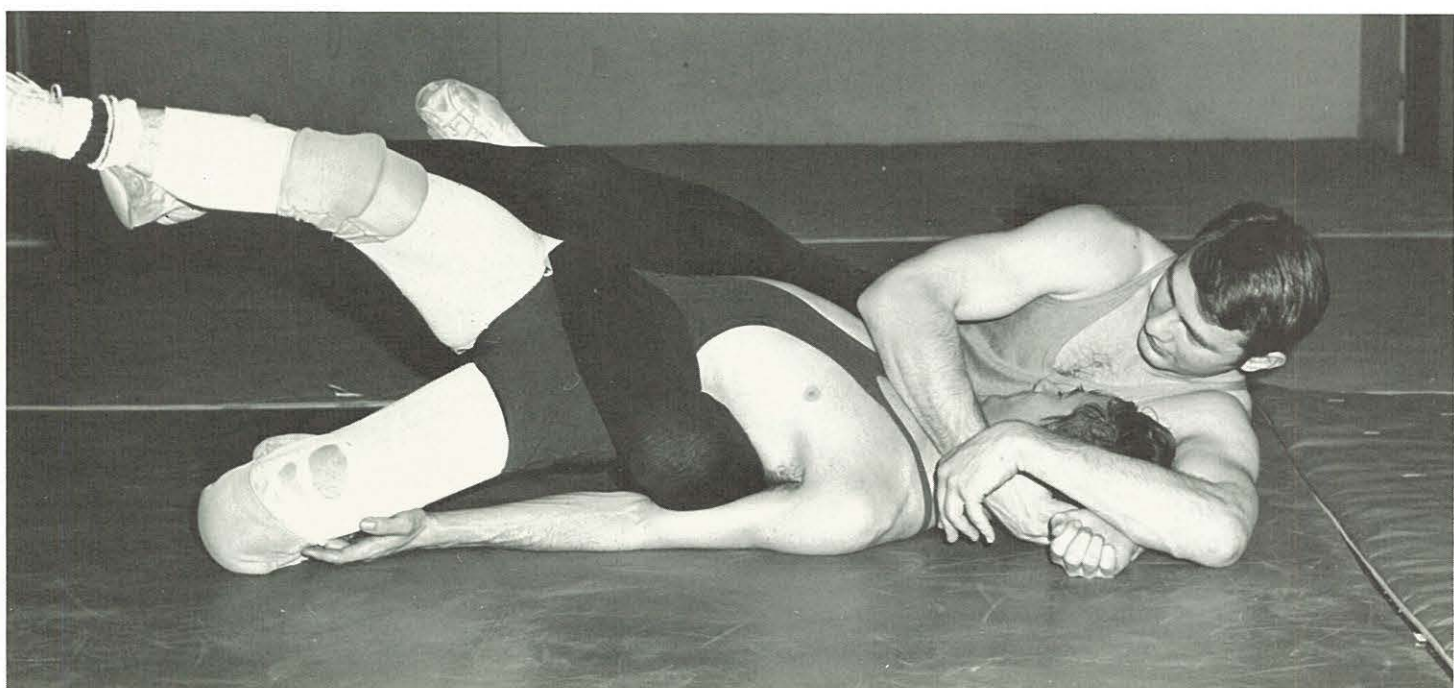

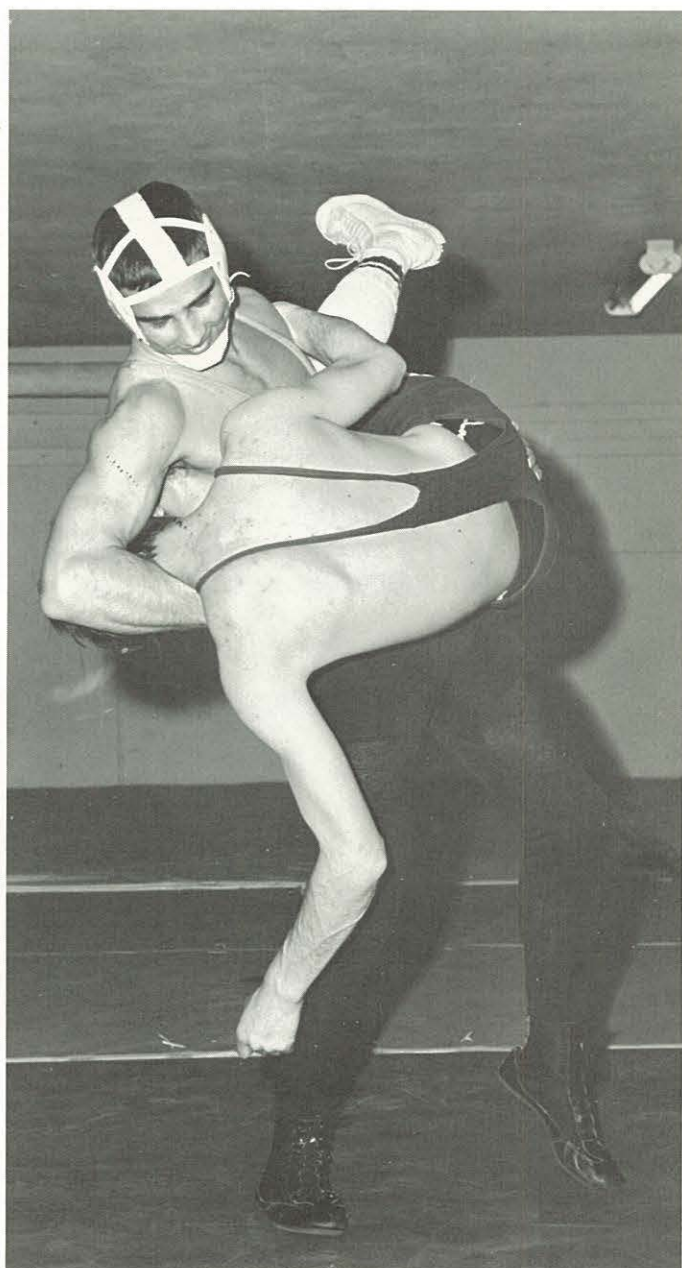

The Crusader Matmen completed their 1968-69 dual-match season with a 4-5 record against increasingly tough competition. The Crusaders are in their third year of varsity level competition and the school record now stands at 12 wins and 15 losses.

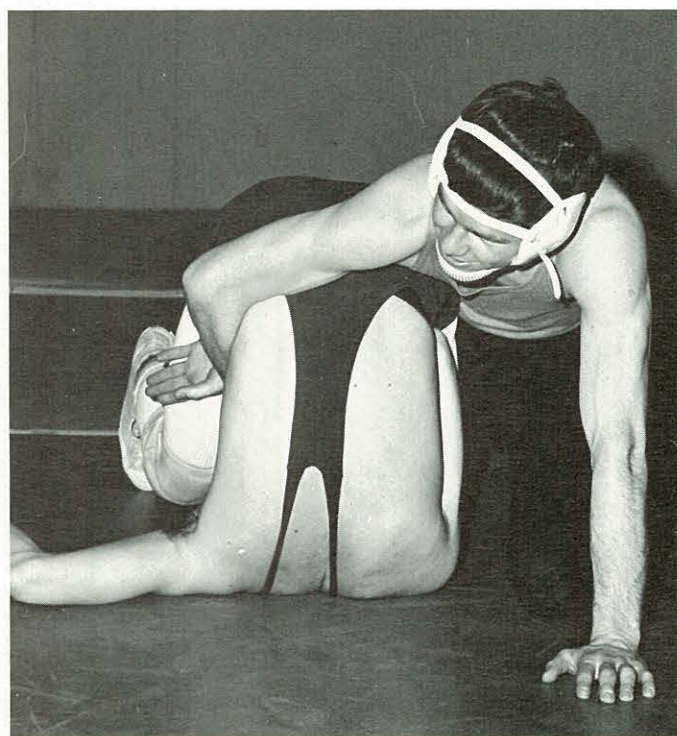

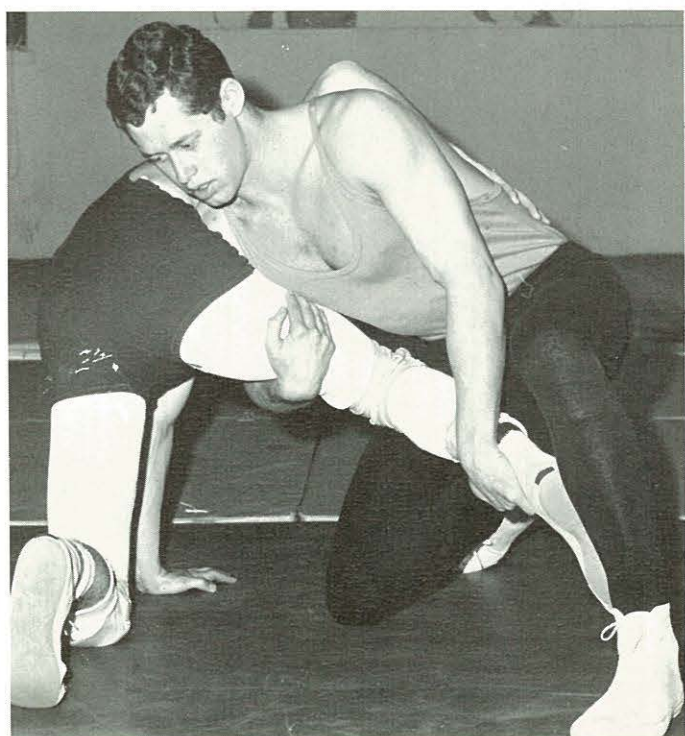

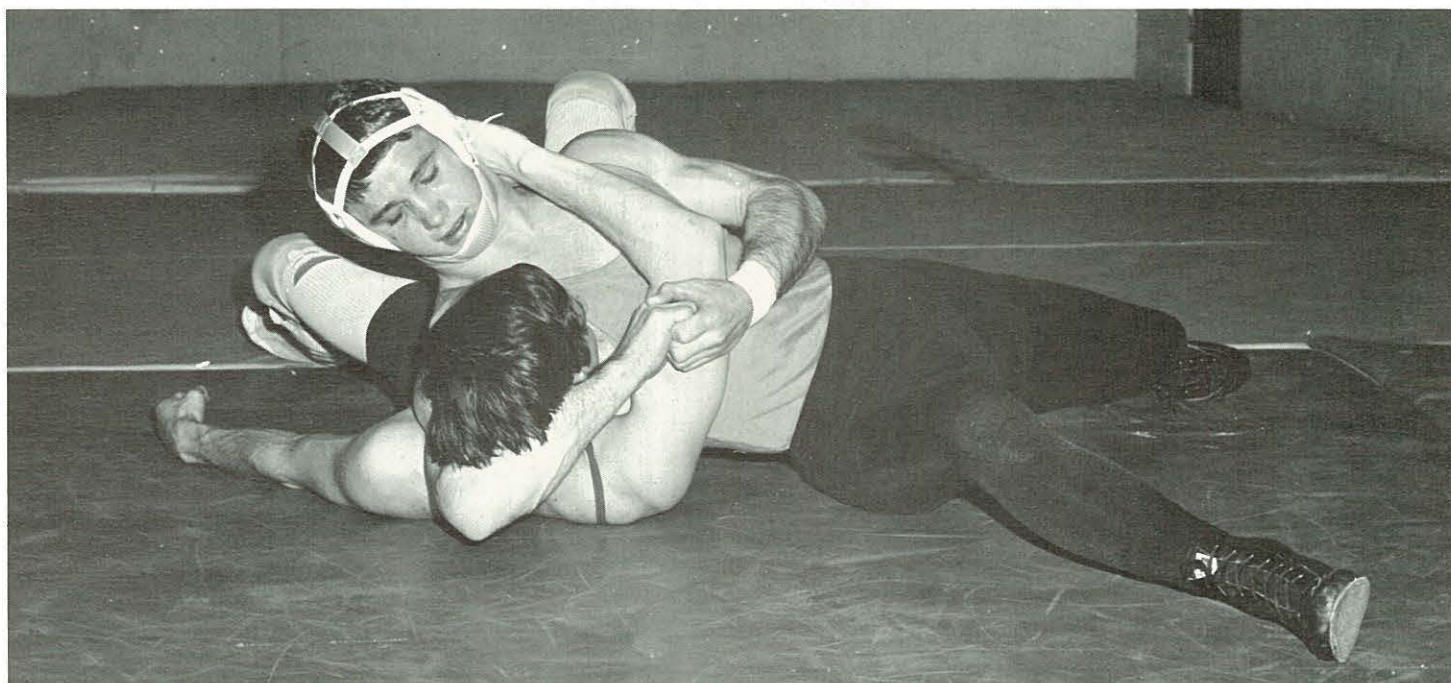

Several individual Crusaders had good seasons. Sam Frazier, (152), with a 9-3 record, Dan Purkey, (145), with a 8-2 record, and Chuck Geselle, (130), with an 8-3 record led the way for the improving wrestlers.

Golfers Sport Best Record of the Year

The Golf team, for the second consecutive year, represented the independents in the District #2 NAIA action, placing fourth. Bob Taylor, (right), for the second year in a row, won a place on the All-District team. Taylor was number one man on the team and played almost without exception in the 70's.

Dale Peterson, (below), was number two man on the team. Monty Ortman, Rick Hartwig, and Lonnie Barnhouse played excellent golf, many times coming through with big points to help the team to a very fine 11-5 season record. High points of the season were a continued dominance over C of I, two wins over Boise State, and a win over Linfield College.

Tennis

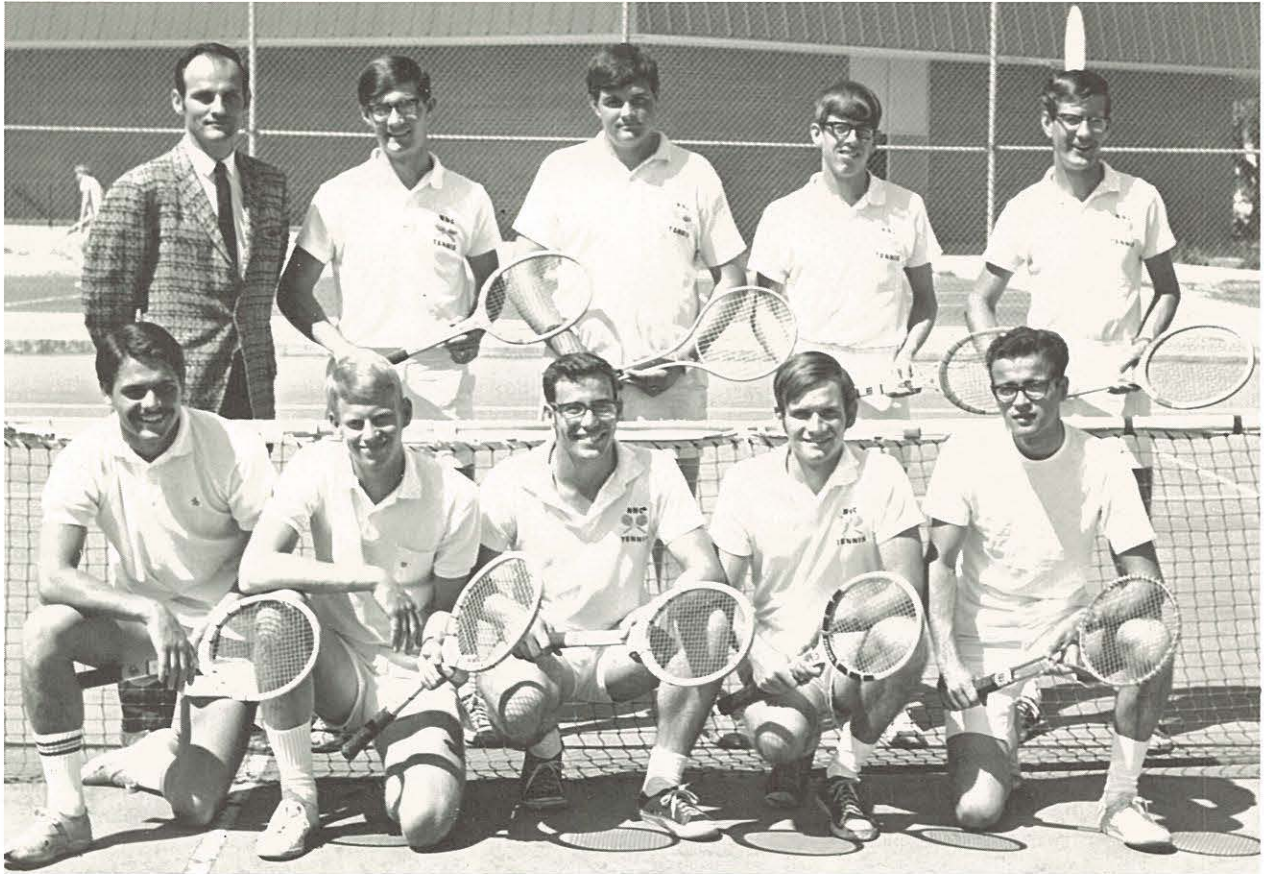

Women's tennis came through their spring sport with a winning record. Lois Belisle and Marilyn Vail teamed up for first doubles, while Marilyn also played first in singles. With only three freshmen, two sophomores, two juniors, and no seniors the team should be tough to beat again next year.

NNC's tennis teams had a fine season, with the men's tennis team compiling a respectable 9-8 record against such tough teams as the U. of Idaho, Weber State, Boise State, ISU.

Playing first man on the team was Don Bozarth. Bozarth and his doubles partner, Bob Ecker, went to Ashland, Oregon, representing NNC in the District NAIA tennis. Don Bozarth reached the semi-finals in that tourney, and won the Idaho State championship.

This year's track team was marked by increased development in the individual events. Lynn Hills broke the school's mile record, as did Steve Turner with the pole vault record.

Wally Moore did an outstanding job in the one-half mile. Terry Cantrell added many points with his tremendous speed in the hurdles.

The mile relay team, consisting of Cantrell, Gibson, Hills, and Moore also broke the school record as did the sprint medley team of Gibson, Hanson, Bartolaba, and Hills.

Off Campus Almost Another World

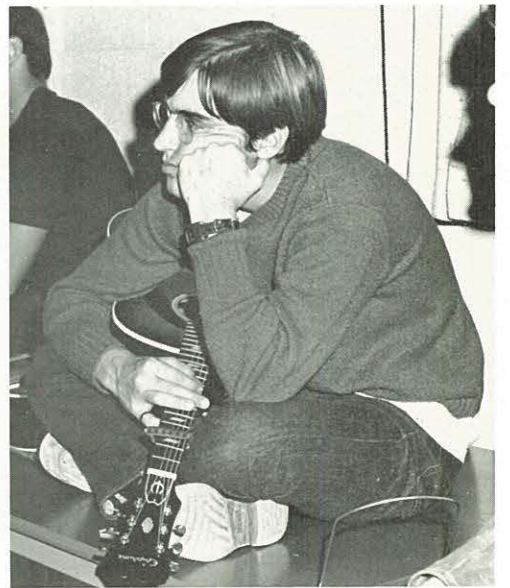

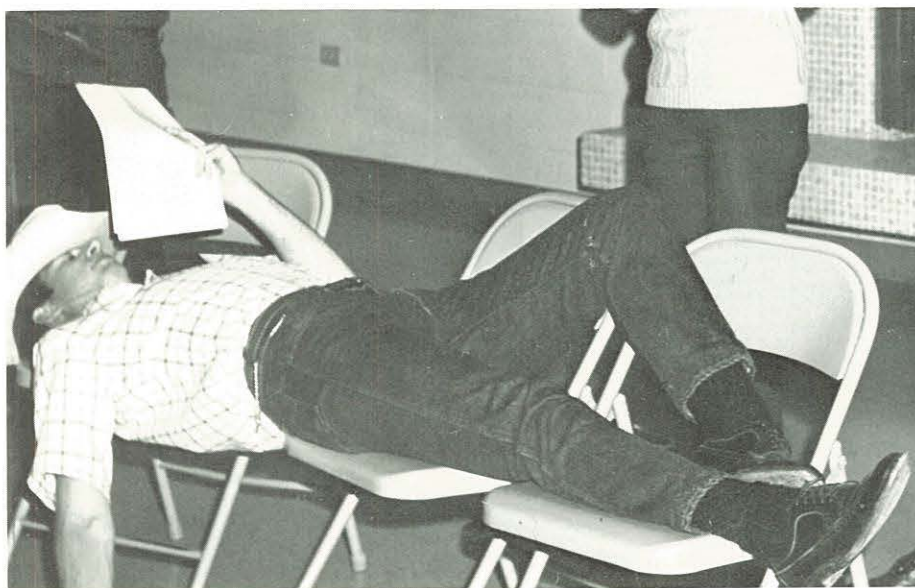

Greg, Cheryl, and Tami Fraser portray another segment of life at N.N.C. Greg represented the nearly one third of the student body who do not participate in group living and standing in lines for meals.

Married students often inhabit the apartments adjoining the campus commonly known as Vetville. They economize with VW's when they can't walk.

Single off-campus students usually have a closer contact with the school functions. Not as many of them rush from school to work. They do not have dorm hours — or dorm parties. Such are the two distinct cultures within a college community.

Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities

Twelve seniors from a list of twenty-four earned the nationwide honor of election to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. A joint committee of students and faculty nominated students on the basis of honors and service to school. Final choice rested on a vote by the student body.

A black and white portrait of a man with dark, wavy hair, wearing a dark suit, white shirt, and dark tie. He is sitting and looking directly at the camera with a slight smile. His hands are resting on his lap, and he is holding a dark object, possibly a pen or a small case. The background is dark and out of focus, showing some vertical lines and a faint image of a person in the upper left.

"Every youth has a quest to make,
For life is the King's highway;
And a joyous heart is the script we take
On the road of Everyday.

Every youth has his gifts to guard
As he fares to a far-off goal —
A body pure, and a mind unmarred,
And the light of a lovely soul.

Every youth has a task of his own,
For the Father has planned it so;
He seeks the way and He alone
Can show him the path to go.

Every youth has a lovely Guide
From the vale to the mountain crest;
For the unseen Friend who walks beside
Is the Way and the End of the Quest"

Already?

Already it's the end? Unbelievable as it seems, finals, commencement, and parting of friends powerfully convince us that it was nine months ago we came feeling we had plenty of time.

And how have we used our time? Through all the components of a college education — and it's not all in the books — we attempted to share and be shared. OASIS '69 wanted to portray this transforming communication.

Did we succeed? Thank you for giving us a chance.
